North Phoenix High School
Phoenix, Arizona

Campus

In a few short years our campus has turned from a lonely desert expanse to an oasis of color and activity.

In this building we and the community have often come together for entertainment and learning.

The Auditorium

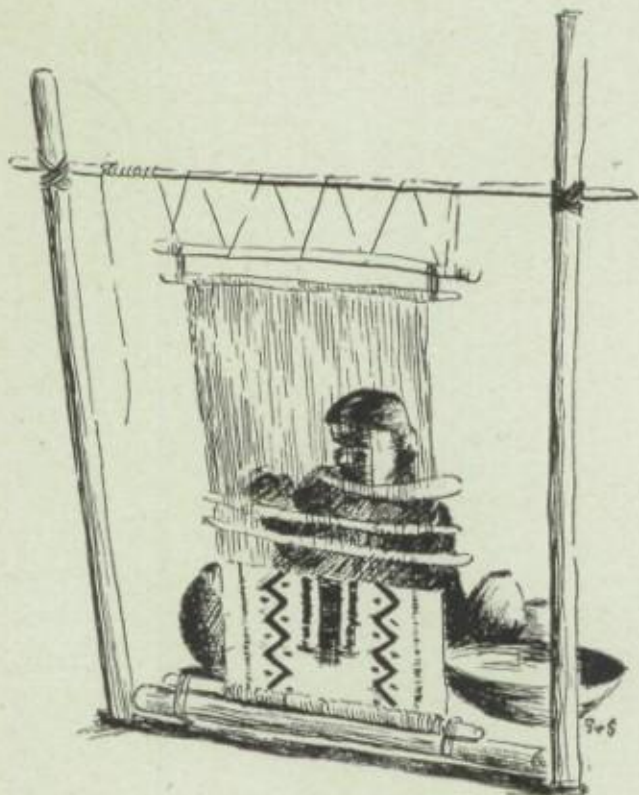

The Stadium

In our stadium sportsmanship and fair play have always prevailed. The sky-reaching steel spars are a distinctive feature of the skyline in Northeast Phoenix.

Science Building

Within these portals we gleaned the knowledge of a scientific world and learned the arts of homemaking and craftsmanship.

The Corral

At last a dream has been realized in our Corral—the place where we may go to spend our leisure hours.

The Cafeteria

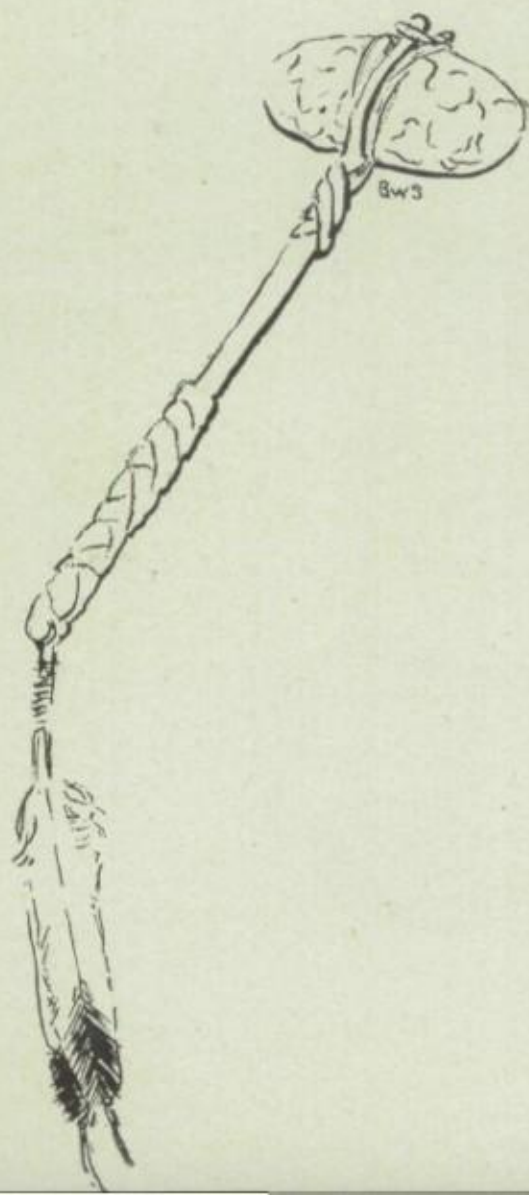

Good luck to a swell
guy. See you around church.

Administration

NATIONAL CONVENTION: Supt. E. W. Montgomery, immediate past president of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, is pictured as he addressed delegates and honor guests at a banquet of the association during the annual meeting of NASSP in Atlantic City, N. J. At Dr. Montgomery's right is Miss Edith A. Ford, chairman of the British Committee for Interchange of Teachers Between Great Britain and the United States; at his left is U. S. Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker. Others in the distinguished group are Mrs. Pearl Wannamaker, NEA president; Dr. Paul E. Elicker, executive secretary of NASSP, Dr. Olav Paus-Grunt, United Nations representative, educational division; Dr. Willard E. Givens, NEA executive secretary; Dr. William G. Carr, NEA associate secretary, and Mr. Mervyn Pritchard, educational officer, British Embassy. Mrs. Montgomery was also at the speakers' table but was hidden from the camera.

Superintendent

Superintendent of the Phoenix High Schools is Dr. E. W. Montgomery, our friend and leader. He has directed our school on a straight course which has led it to a place of high standing in our State and Nation. Even though he has had to spend much of his time in the direction of the various high schools of the city, we have always found him ready and willing to come to our aid at North Phoenix High.

Principal

Last September there came to North High a young man, who was to be our principal. He undertook an arduous task, but in a few short months he had become one of us—a fellow Mustang.

He has faced our problems with us and our combined efforts and decisions have served to bring about a closer feeling among our principal, our teachers, and our student body.

No wonder we respect and admire Mr. James I. Stewart.

Wise Planning

Success in education requires the interest of the parent in the school. At North High this interest is high, and the Parent-Teacher Association does much to foster it. At "open houses", panel discussions, receptions, and regular meetings, parents meet teachers for mutual profit.

If it were not for Mr. Charles Burton, many of us would find the task of preparing for college very difficult. He has spent many extra hours in preparing our schedules and in counseling with us over the problems which will face us in the future.

Mr. Charles M. Burton, Registrar.

Mr. Frank Anderson, Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Jewell Rasbury, Dean of Girls, chat with Mrs. Jean Hansen, student counselor, about some of the amusing dilemmas they are faced with.

Advice and Counsel

Characters are molded by such people as these three: Mrs. Jewell Rasbury, as our Dean of Girls; Mr. Frank Anderson, as our Dean of Boys; and Mrs. Jean Hansen, as our Home Counselor, work endlessly and tirelessly for us students. No task is too great for them to undertake in our behalf.

Mr. Olney, too, aids our cause by co-ordinating the curricula of the schools of the system, by supervising the inter-school contests, and by clarifying the goals toward which we all work.

Mr. A. F. Olney,
Curriculum Coordinator.

Headquarters

North Phoenix High School could not operate successfully without the staff of the Business Office. Mr. Henry Lowe is a familiar sight, always being busy in the book store or in the business office.

Mr. Stewart too, is very dependent upon the staff, as Mrs. Mildred Hill, who is always kept busy, is his personal secretary.

Mrs. Flora Darland spends her time in varied activities. We students often come to her in search of notebooks and sweaters which we have lost, and she, kindly, tries to assist us in finding our misplaced possessions.

Name and Number

Daily the lines may be seen at the windows at the Registrar's Office and it is always Miss Williams and Mrs. Westby who must interview the people in these lines, being sure that each student has his absence permits or tardy excuses.

It is through their patience and effort too that we are able to enter school each year with our schedules already tentatively prepared for us.

Mr. Charles M. Burton, Registrar, is always at hand for wise counseling.

The Health Center

The Health Center is at hand for the nicks and bruises which attend the normal life of lively teen-agers. Small-pox vaccinations were administered to those desiring them. A useful course in First Aid and Home Nursing was given to a group of girls who are pictured above. Back row: Holmes, Christy, Godfrey, Pinyan, Miller, Hull, Francis, Dodson, Pursley. Second row: Miss Potthoff, McConoughey, Miss Breneman.

The center inset shows Miss Lydia Potthoff, Public Health Nurse and director of the Health Center. The lower picture shows a nurse's assistant attending a patient.

Buildings and Grounds

Our campus and buildings have been kept beautiful and clean by this staff of men who work endlessly trimming the lawns and polishing our desks. Often they can be seen planting flowers or shearing hedges and they are always ready with a friendly word for each student who may pass.

Reading

Mrs. Marian Chiono and Mr. John C. Raymond (above) appear to be amused at what Miss Sylvia Poling is typing; a test, no doubt. Mrs. Winnifred Fitts and Miss Marian Cox (lower left) instruct Junior English, while Miss Zula Stevens has Senior English and is also one of the sponsors of the Senior Class.

Mr. Orville Hamm, (below) new Freshman English teacher, looks relieved after wading through his stack of test papers.

Mrs. Fleda C. Kinneman (above) still looks buoyant after a long day with her Freshman English Classes.

The profound Mr. Frederic Mitchell (lower left) is probably brooding over the stupidity of his word study classes; but, after all, we haven't all read the Webster Un-abbreviated Dictionary. Subject, verb, predicate—it's a hopeless tangle until Mr. Carl H. Wagner, Miss Miriam Gathings, and Mr. Stanley O. Cardon (lower right) explain the meaning of their blackboard hieroglyphics.

Art, Music, and the Stage

Miss Frances Kapanke makes some suggestions on design to two of her students (above). As usual the art department won many honors this year. Dramatics coach, Miss Lucille Hicks, is caught (lower left) in a brief moment of relaxation from the many duties involved in preparing stage programs. Mr. Lynn W. Fitzgerald, head of the music department, types a test (lower right) for his long suffering harmony class, while two of the prospective victims look on.

Books and Cooks

Mrs. Marian Robbins and Miss Genevieve Carlton, librarians, (upper picture) check through their lists of overdue books.

Mrs. Anna Lou Yancy, Mrs. Gwendolyn Beaver, and Mrs. Marilyn Bell of the homemaking department (lower picture) inspect an electric roaster used in the food preparation classes.

Scientists

Mr. D. G. Mullins and Mr. Fred Draper (left) discuss the problems of animal husbandry and crop cultivation.

Mr. A. B. Clark, biology teacher, and Mr. William C. Vaughn, instructor in physiography and general science, (center) survey a scientific experiment they have just made. Mr. Lorenzo Lisonbee, Mr. Dewey Marker, Mrs. Elsie Chason, and Mr. C. A. Brown (right) inspect a repulsion coil which is used in physics experiments.

Teaching – with a World Outlook

Mr. F. V. (Bud) Brown pours a cup of hot, black coffee for Mrs. Charlotte N. Cockerell, (above) in the teachers' cafeteria. Bud Brown teaches American history, civics, and economics, while Mrs. Cockerell has American and world history classes.

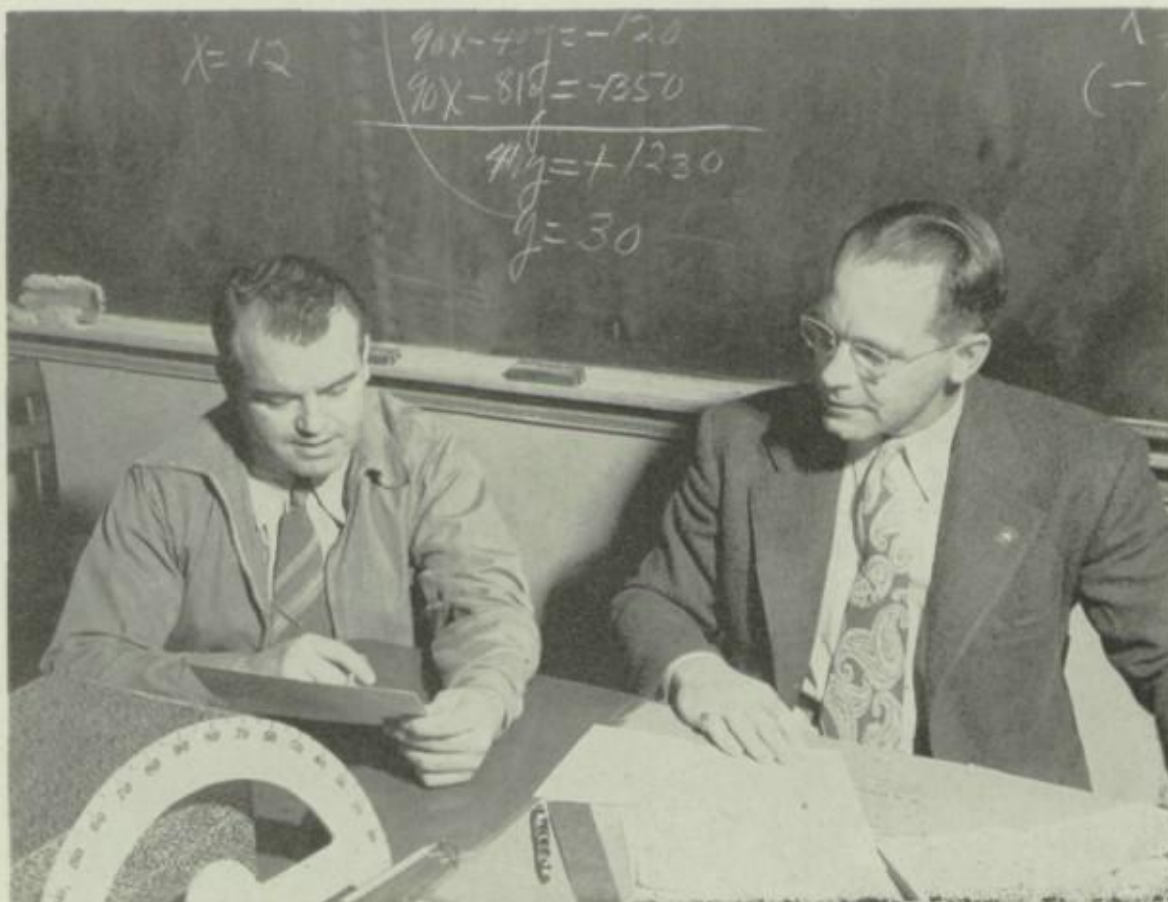

Miss Ruth Adams and Mrs. Joseph McKinney are pictured with Miss Ellen Nitzkowski while she examines a current issue of Fortune magazine (below). Miss Adams instructs civics, economics, and international relations; Mr. McKinney has economics, civics, and American history; and Miss Nitzkowski teaches American and Latin American history.

Mathematically Minded

Despite their apparent formality Mrs. H. E. Muth and Mr. Frank V. Gilleland (above left) have been known on occasion to unbend and become quite informal and gay. Math teachers are subject to these varying moods. Mr. Henry Anderson, Mr. Henry Schmidt, and Mr. Herbert Drinkwater (above right) discuss problems of the mathematics department.

Mr. Thomas Inman and Mr. T. H. Utlaut appear to be having a little difficulty over the algebra homework assignment. Maybe they should study our simplified textbooks, too.

They're All Business

Conversing about mutual problems in the mathematics department are Mr. Walter J. Wooden and Mr. Fred O. McDonald (right).

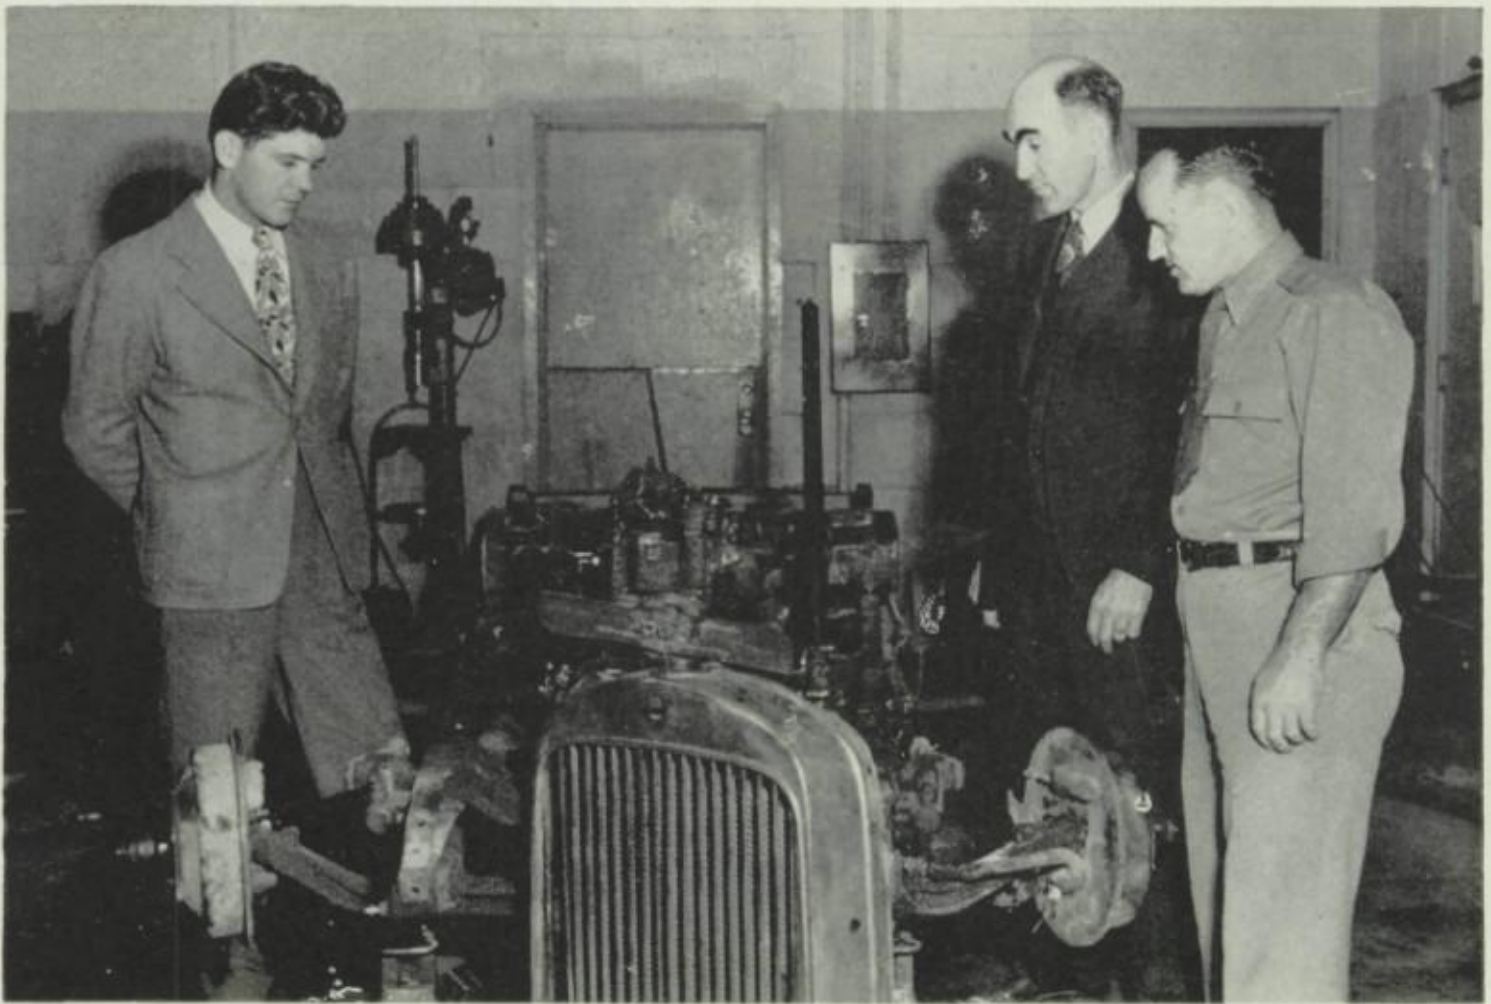

They Speak Many Languages

Crafts for Useful Hands

Mr. Martin Marich, Mr. Lawrence Chard, and Mr. Thomas McCarty (above) of the industrial arts department discuss automobile mechanics.

Also in the industrial arts department, Mr. Arthur M. Hawk, Mr. Fred Schade, and Mr. Vernon Hathcock (below) examine an item of wood-craft made in the industrial shop.

Good Sports—Outdoors and Indoors

Instructors in the girls' physical education department are Miss Regna Breneman, Mrs. Bettse Phelps, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, pianist for the dancing classes, and Miss Catherine Wilkinson (below).

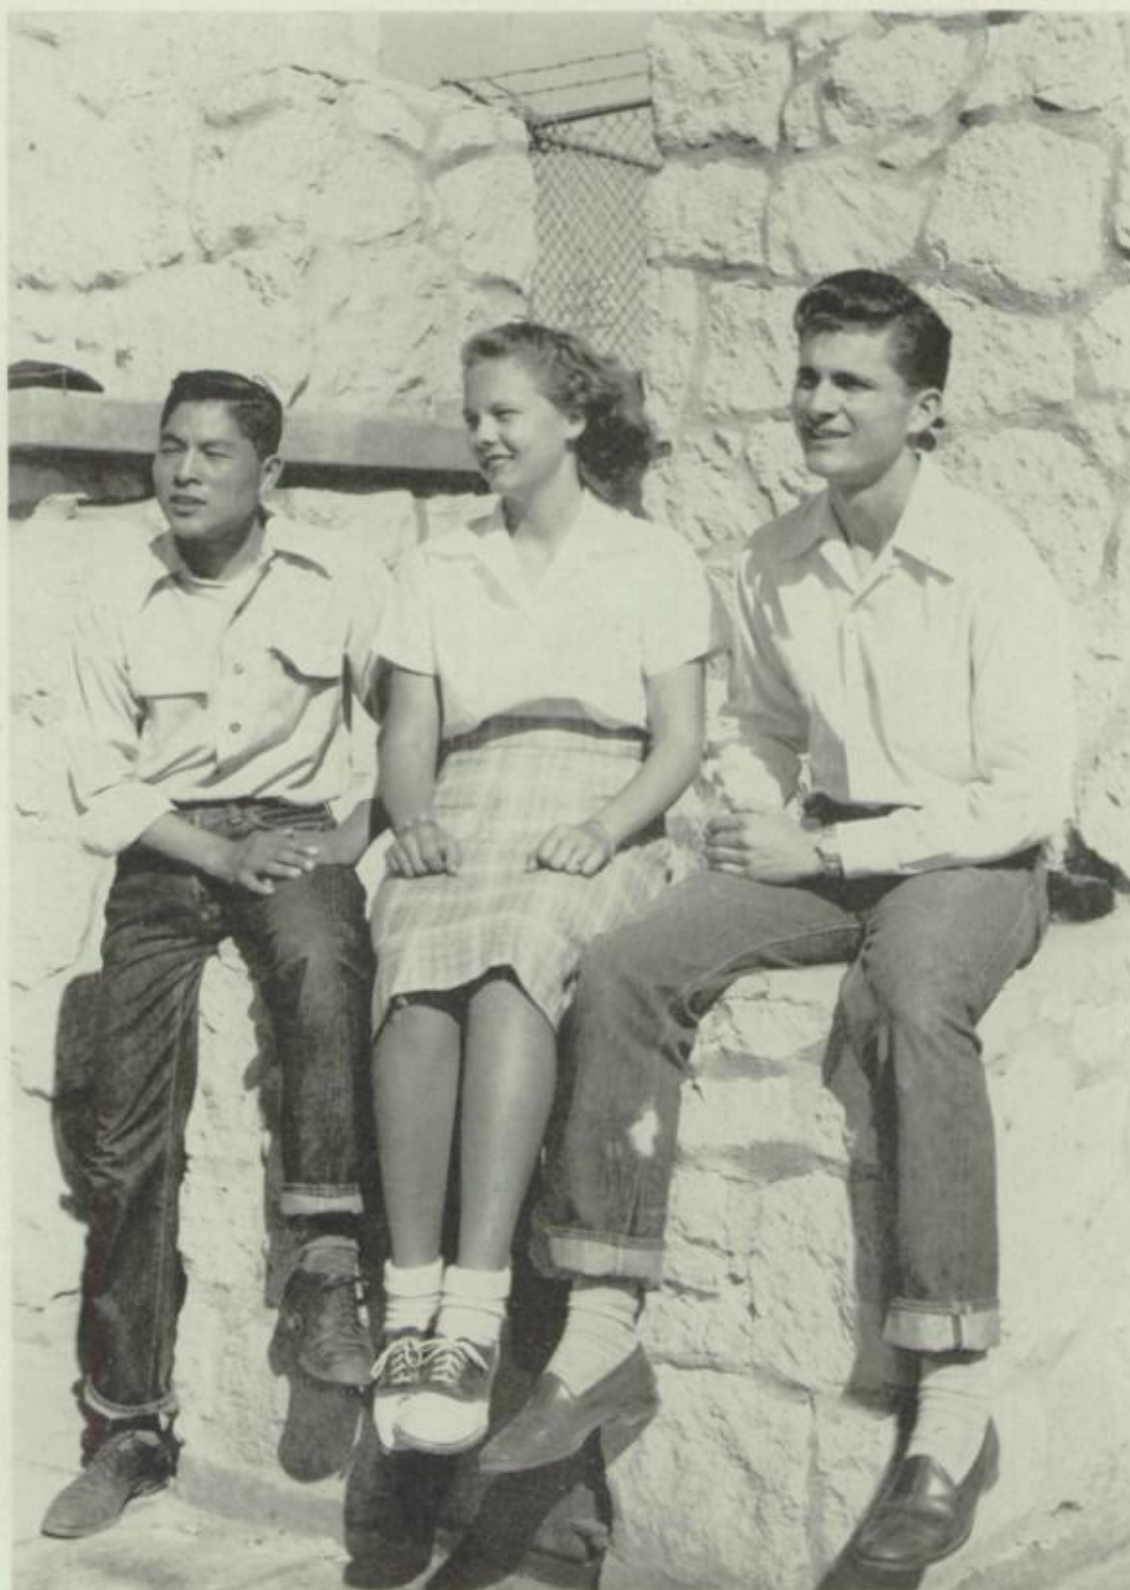

After Work, a Little Relaxation

Mr. Harold Williams and Miss Florine Kitts (above) discuss matters pertaining to orientation classes and student counseling.

Seen at the faculty tea were Mrs. H. E. Muth, Mr. Lynn W. Fitzgerald, and Mrs. Marilyn Bell chatting together (right).

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS. Emory Sekaquaptewa, Vice-president; Gyrene Grammar, Secretary-Treasurer; and Ronald Prator, President.

None Better

The year of 1946-47 will be one never to be forgotten in the annals of North Phoenix High School and much of its success was due to the sustained efforts of Ronald Prator, who led his student body with great fervor, and Emory Sekaquaptewa and Gyrene Grammar, who assisted him as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer.

Through their leadership every campaign, every assembly, and every dance was a stupendous success. They have been loyal Mustangs.

Leadership

This year has seen many changes in our school policy and it has been the Executive Committee who has worked with our Principal and teachers for these changes. Often this committee could be seen undertaking a crusade for the betterment of our campus. Even painting the trash containers and picking up papers came within their jurisdiction.

Mistakes pertaining to the rules of our school are often made in our daily life and each year the students elect a group of fellow students who will attempt in the ensuing year to justify these mistakes. The Honor Court has become a guiding and helpful institution at North High.

Our Voices

As an advisory body, the Student Council is very active in the life of our school. Through it each student may have a voice in the running of the school.

They discuss Red Cross drives, money-raising campaigns, and school policy. The Student Council well fulfills the medium of self expression for the betterment of North Phoenix High School.

CLEAN UP! Members of the Executive Committee put the Mustang brand on new waste paper cans they placed on the campus in the clean up campaign sponsored by the committee. Left to right: Marilyn Dunlap, Ronald Prator, Bill Cox, Gyrene Grammar, Dorothy Jansen, and Susan Carollo.

For Others

The children of Europe will long remember just such people as our Red Cross Chairmen, who this year went out with zeal to collect food, clothing, and money for the starving peoples of the world. Their greatest undertaking was that of raising money in order that our school might send several heifers to Europe for the relief of the children who are without milk or food there.

The Social Committee has one of the most difficult jobs in arranging for entertainment for a student body as large as ours. Our dances would not have been a success without their help.

BOYS' ALLIANCE OFFICERS. Bill Miller, Wally Perry, and Louie Bohn.

The Boys' Alliance, with the able leadership of Louie Bohn as President; Wally Perry, as Vice-President; and Bill Miller, as Secretary, has again had a very successful year. Of special interest to the students was the reinstatement of the Rhythm Roundup.

A Man's World

MUSTANG CONGRESS EXECUTIVE BOARD. Front row: Duerson, Peterson, St. Clair, Miller, Bohn, Fannin, Long, Stevenson, Perry.

For Their Goal a Worthy Cause

Since the beginning of our school, the Auditorium has been without the lettering which would inform the public that this was N.P.H.S. Through the efforts of the Boys' Alliance an adequate amount of money was raised through the showing of Tad Nichols' Paricutin film for this lettering.

The hard working leaders of the Girls' League, shown in a very casual moment, were Wende Chrisman, Secretary; Paula Pursley, Treasurer; Patsy Shea, Vice-president; and Cathy Hill, President.

No Job Too Great!

The Girls' League, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Jewell Rasbury, this year again revived the annual Fashion Show and also aided the Boys' Alliance in the Rhythm Roundup production.

Girls working together can accomplish a great deal, especially when they are energetic North High co-eds. With a group of forceful leaders and a cabinet which devoted its time and energy to worth while endeavor, much was accomplished this year.

Working for the Fun of It

The officers of the Girls' League would scarcely be able to carry on their duties if it were not for the representatives to the Girls' League Council, who give so ably of their time and ideas.

Mrs. Rasbury's office is a busy place. Student secretaries help her with the many activities of the Girls' League.

Seniors

Four long years of combined hard work and good times are at last at an end for the Senior Class. The time has at last come for them to take leave of North High and start out on a new path of life.

Under the leadership of their President, Dick Norton; Vice-President, Layne Black; and Secretary-Treasurer, Shirley Fields, this class has reached the peak of advancement towards school spirit, which only tended to make them better leaders of the Student Body. They are the first class in North High's history to have school rings and they also established the precedence of electing the Senior Class King and Queen and other outstanding positions.

The resignation during mid-year of popular and energetic President Dick Norton came as a shock and was much regretted by everyone. He was succeeded in the presidency by Vice-President Layne Black, who has very ably filled the position. Marty Humphrey, a popular and widely-known senior, was then elected to fill the post of Vice-President.

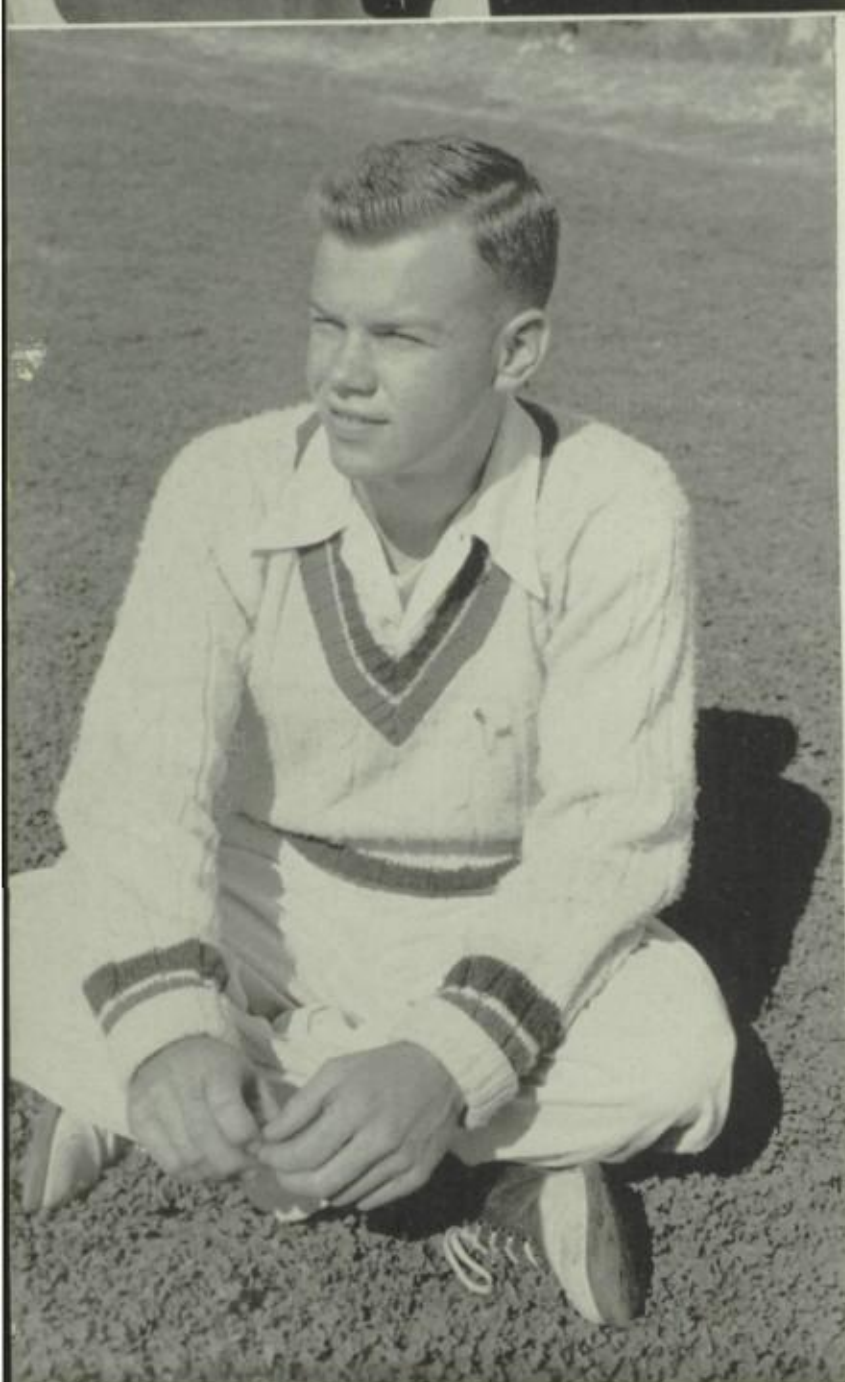

The First Senior Hop

The Senior Hop, initiated this year by the Senior Class, is sure to always be one of the most anticipated events of the years to come.

Amidst great gaiety and merry making Louis Bohn, Boys' Alliance President, performed the ceremonies of crowning the Senior Class King, Ronald Prator, and the Queen, popular Norma Lee Bedilion. Afterwards, the two awarded certificates of merit to those who had been elected the outstanding members of the class and then reigned supreme for the remainder of the dance.

Honored by

For the first time in the history of North High, our Senior Class voted to elect a King and Queen, an outstanding boy and girl, the most handsome boy and the most beautiful girl, best athletes, and the boy and girl most likely to succeed.

Don Summers and Betty Burrall won the titles of handsome seniors, and Ronald Prator and Norma Lee Bedilion were voted King and Queen.

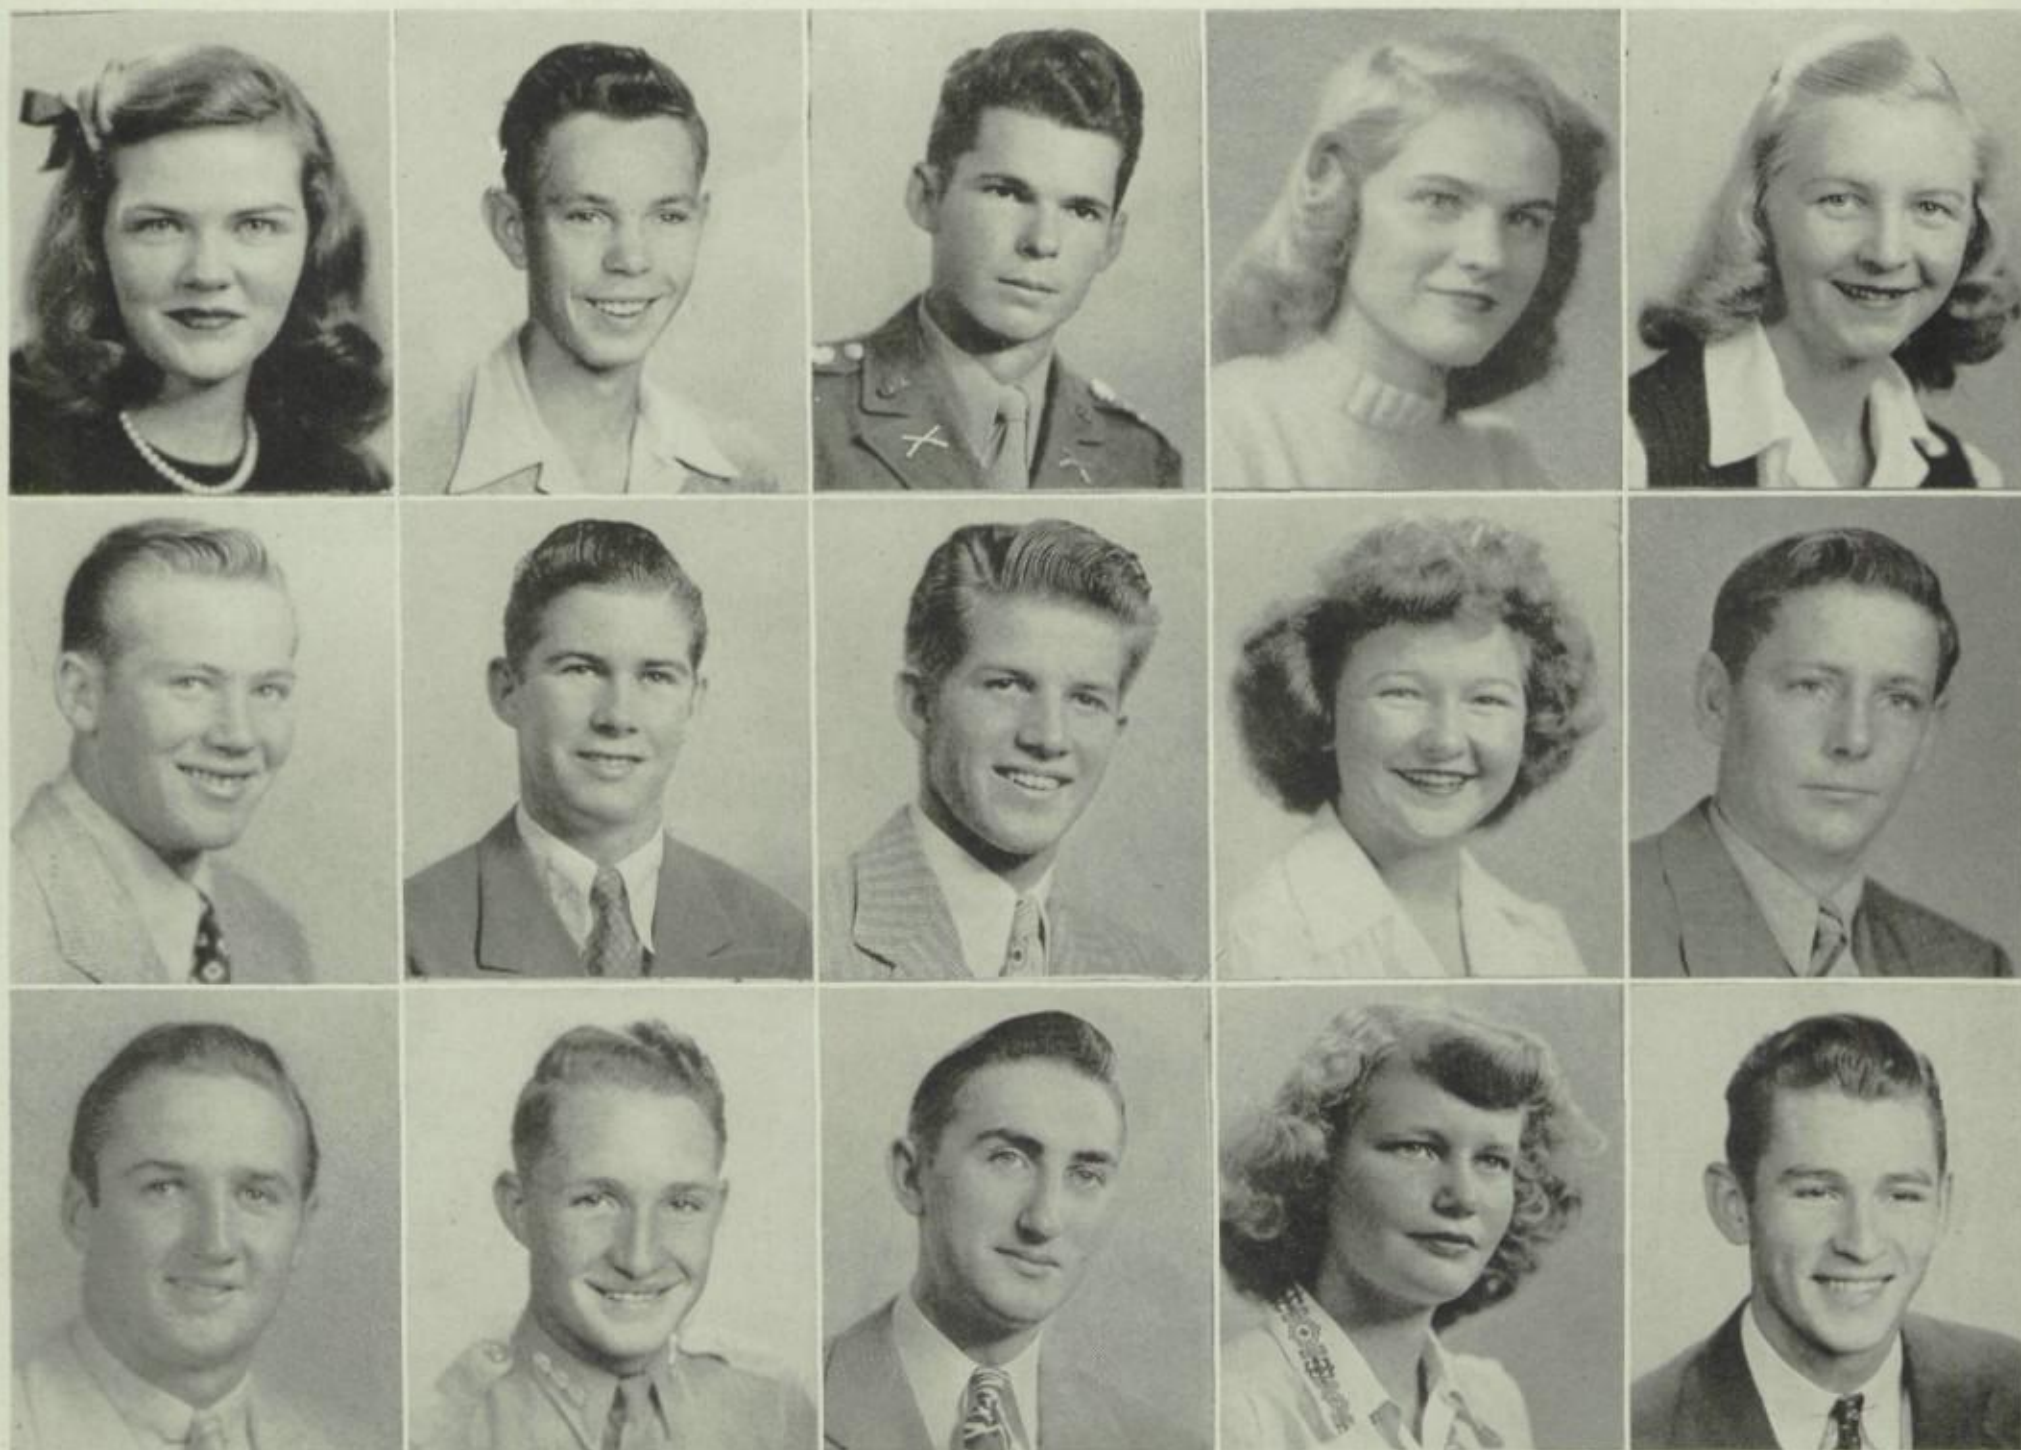

SENIORS' CHOICE. Honored by vote of their classmates are the Seniors pictured on these two pages. Clockwise, from lower left: Bob Charles, boy most likely to succeed; Elizabeth Van Akin and Don Meloche, outstanding athletes; Ronald Prator and Norma Lee Bedilion, King and Queen; Don Summers and Betty Burrall, best looking boy and girl; Dick Norton and Shirley Fields, most outstanding boy and girl; and Betty Udell, girl most likely to succeed.

Their Class

Elizabeth Van Akin and Don Meloche were named the year's most outstanding athletes.

Senior class officers Dick Norton and Shirley Fields were elected the two most outstanding seniors for their great accomplishments for their class, and Betty Udell and Bob Charles carried the laurels of the girl and boy most likely to succeed.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS. Ray Moran,
Machrina Best, and Marcia Brown.

Juniors

The Juniors are to be congratulated for a school-year well-spent. This year they have been more outstanding than ever before. They have succeeded in everything in which they have participated. They are to be commended on their great help in collecting funds for the Red Cross. Their remarkable record does not end here. Future classes will continue to thank them for their contributions to North High.

We owe to Ray Moran gratitude for his excellent leadership as President of the Junior Class, assisted by Machrina Best as Vice-President, and Marcia Brown as Secretary-Treasurer.

Next year, the Juniors will be the leaders of the school. We feel they are more than worthy of the position, judging from the aforementioned record. The job confronting them is a difficult one. We wish to extend to them the best of luck in the forth-coming year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS. Robert Brown, President; Rosie Bennett, Secretary-Treasurer; and Billie Wynn, Vice-president.

Sophomores

Last year's crop of Freshmen have this year become Sophisticated Sophomores. Now they know the tricks and traits of the Mustangs, and they're going to make the most of that knowledge. They get fed up, as everyone else does, with homework, but now, at the end of the year, they're pretty proud to have been in the Sophomore class of 1946-47. Just ask one.

As class President, the Sophomores had Robert Brown; with Billie Wynn as Vice-President; and Rosie Bennett as Secretary-Treasurer. They've all done commendable jobs.

If the Sophomores of 1947-48 are as swell as this year's, we can look forward to an industrious, hard-working eleventh grade at North High.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS. Ken Thompson, President; Wesley Johnson, Vice-president; and Kay Korte, Secretary-Treasurer.

Freshmen

Well, they can breathe freely now. They have survived their first year of high school, and it wasn't so bad after all. In fact, it was fun. There was plenty of work to do, but they did it. And there were, as usual, those never-ending insults and teasing remarks about "You Freshmen!" But they endured those, too.

They have cooperated readily in drives and other such doings here at North High. Of course, there is room for improvement, as always. And, as in the past, they will improve. But at the present, we think they've done a swell job.

And now that they are used to our customs and rules, they are really prepared to take on the job of continuing and finishing high school with flying colors. So to you who were the 1946-47 neophytes of North High, we say, "See you next year!"

Clubs

Friendliness Is the Keyword

Christmas teas, Valentine parties, and Easter Egg hunts, entertain the new girls at school who attend the annual Howdy Pardners "get acquainted" parties. Each homeroom elects a representative who is responsible for the new girls in her class.

The club, under the supervision of Miss Miriam Gathings, chose Jo Chuka as president.

Pursuing Scientific Knowledge

When it comes to explaining the mysteries of the atom, the members of the Science Club are the ones who can do it.

Yes, they delve into things a bit more deeply than do the rest of us. Maybe it's because they're thirstier for knowledge. Leading the 1946-47 club was Jimmy Knowles. Adviser was Mr. C. A. Brown.

Along similar scientific lines, one of Mr. Brown's chemistry classes formed itself into a pursuit-of-knowledge organization and called itself the Chemistry Club.

Interest in the Classics

Bellatores is the organization of third and fourth year Latin students. Sponsored by Miss Anna Schlichter, the club's aim is to better the understanding of the students in the present day uses of Latin.

Presidents chosen to lead the club for the first and second semesters were Bob Terrell and Bob Green, respectively.

Legio Honoris is again one of the most enterprising and interesting of the language clubs this year. Under the very able sponsorship of Miss Anna Schlichter, the club is led by Barry Long, Imperator. Other officers this year were Bonnie Lou La Zarr, Legatus; Helen Jordan, Scribe; Susan Thompson, Quaestor.

Making arrangements for the meetings was the Program Committee: Findley Randolph, Betty Lou Gilbert, Sally Leahy, and Joseph Giordan.

Surveying the Nations

Espanlata is a club for students of Spanish and Latin classes. The members are interested in more than simply learning what the daily lessons teach them in the school. They have intentions of furthering their knowledge of languages; it is assuredly a worth-while aim.

The officers of the Espanlata Club were Nan Taylor, President; Mary Lou Shoemaker, Vice-President; Ann Stallcup, Secretary; and Alice McKinney, Scribe.

This year's French Club, under the direction of first semester President, Mary Koerner, and second semester President, Betty Udell, held meetings once a month. Several parties, including a picnic at the Mustang Corral and joint meeting with the Phoenix Union and Junior College French Clubs, were held by the members.

Thespians and Linguists

The Thespians, a national high school dramatics organization, is lucky to have Troupe No. 403 at North High. Miss Lucille Hicks is its worthy adviser. Elaine Dickey and Louie Bohn shared the Presidency for 1946-47. Ray Williams was Vice-president; Joan Sill took care of minutes and guarded the money; and Lois Driggs and Jerry Lewkowitz were the mean and hard pledge masters.

Los Diablitos is a newly organized Spanish club made up of Miss Howatt's third year students. The club met during class time, but they had several "extra-curricular" parties during the year.

The Future Farmers of America under the leadership of Duane Miller and Marshall Humphrey have completed numerous garden projects. Ably supervised by Mr. Fred Draper, they are still maintaining their standard as an outstanding club.

The other officers of this year's group were Gerald Butler, Secretary; Malcom Wells, Treasurer; and Clifton Kau, Sentinel.

For Fun and Service

Sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Muth, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Gum, and Miss Vera Boyington, the two Y-Teen clubs of North High have had a busy year. Heading the Junior-Senior club are Dot Janssen, President; Carol Ann Thiel, Vice-president; Rogene Hinshaw, Secretary; and Bethany Fyke, Interclub Representative. Donna Jean Baker, Miriam Basham, Marjorie Zabriskie, and Muriel Overton were the top officers of the Freshman-Sophomore club.

Both clubs took part in activities with other clubs in the city, such as the Christmas Hanging of the Greens Tea, a rummage sale, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

The first social event of the year was a taffy pull at Rosemary Lodge, Y-Teen week-end hangout. Other club activities included a bike hike, a radio program, a week end at Goldwater's farm, a record auction, and sewing for the Red Cross.

Homemakers for the Future

The Future Homemakers of America have had a full program this year. Under their officers, Celeste Lipow, President; Dorothy Dodson, Vice-President; Carol Hoff, Secretary; Anita Rahmatulla, Treasurer; Jane Hunter, Historian; and Ferry Beth Keihler, Reporter; and their advisers, Mrs. Anna Lou Yancy, Mrs. Gwendolyn Beaver, and Mrs. Marilyn Bell, they have participated in service projects and entertaining activities.

Their activities included a Christmas party, a field trip to Dorris-Heyman, a treasure hunt, an easter egg hunt, a mother-daughter tea, and a formal dinner which the girls cooked themselves. At Christmas they sent toys to under privileged children and at Easter donated to the F.H.A. national camp fund.

They Offer Their Services

"Right this way, please," is the familiar phrase of the Stadium Club, under the direction of Mr. Brown, who graciously usher sports fans to their seats at our games.

The Library Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Genevieve Carlton and Mrs. Marian Robbins, is made up of girls who are taking library training. Officers this year were Portia Call, President; Joye Larson, Vice-President; and Norene Walls, Secretary-Treasurer.

Politeness and Pep

Members of the Auditorium Club usher at evening performances given in the North Phoenix High School auditorium. They have been on hand this past year for all the musical programs and dramatic presentations. Club sponsors are Miss Marian Cox and Miss Elsie Deaver.

Stimulation of school enthusiasm for our games is the aim of the Pep Club. Started this year under the direction of Mr. Stanley P. Cardon, the organization developed plenty of spirit at our athletic contests.

Radio and the Printed Word

Three small but highly specialized groups of students form three of the most interesting of the many clubs at North High.

The Graphic Arts Club, composed of Print Shop students, was a new club in North High this year. Members of the organization study the principles of printing, and much of their handiwork was seen around the school in the form of tickets, cards, and posters.

The Livewires are really hams. They spend most of their time sending and receiving on their homemade radios. They are sponsored by Mr. Vernon Hathcock.

The Quill and Scroll Society, although meeting infrequently, justifies its existence through the honor and recognition it brings to its members. High school journalists throughout the United States are proud to be members of this national society. Sponsor is Mr. John C. Raymond.

GRAPHIC ARTS CLUB. Front row: Phillips, Russell, Stacy, Handel, Swaine, Hoehn, Arrott, Mr. Lawrence Chard.

Taking Steps

Remember that cute little number who comes into class every day and gets the attendance reports? Well, she's known as an attendance collector and, most probably, she's in the picture above. Attendance collecting is a non-solid, and is one of the many important services of the school. In charge of the attendance collectors is Mrs. Mary Westby.

The Dance Club is sponsored by Miss Catherine Wilkinson, one of the girls' Phys. Ed. Teachers. The participants spend their time striking artistic poses and flitting about on their toes. But seriously, it's not only fun; it teaches poise and self-confidence.

When It Comes to Brains—

With the fourteen or better grade point students gathered together, North High has one of its finest honor clubs—Parnassus. The Senior members, along with the National Honor Society, are given a merit banquet each year by the Phoenix Hiram Club.

The officers of Parnassus for the first semester were Bob Cuthbertson, President; Robert Green, Vice-President; Betty Udell, Secretary; and Susan Randolph, Treasurer. Leading the club second semester were Jerry Lewkowitz, President; Wayne Delvin, Vice-President; Jo Ann Voegele, Secretary; and Joan Sill, Treasurer.

Always Ready and Willing

North High students have been noted for their dependability in the support of national charity drives each year, and this year was no exception. Each and every student was ready with time, work, and money.

The play cast of "Dear Ruth" gave the proceeds of two extra performances to the Infantile Paralysis Fund. The Service Chairmen worked diligently collecting money to buy heifers which would be sent to Europe from North Phoenix High School.

The students bought food and clothing for the needy people of our own city. Each and every student did his part in these helpful campaigns.

No Amount Too Large

Many delicious cakes, candies, and pies became morsels for hungry mouths in the auctions which were held by many homerooms. When the spirit of giving began to fade out, there was always some student who could supply the needed dainties.

Our service chairmen, under the sponsorship of Miss Isabell Howatt, worked many hours planning these programs and collecting food and delivering it to needy families.

We collected money for milk for small children and dimes for those who might be stricken with infantile paralysis. Our auctions especially netted us many dollars on behalf of these charities and for our own Corral.

Discussing World Affairs

The students of North High are progressive. They participated in many Junior Town Meetings of the Air and public discussion contests. They aided the policies of our school by adding their voice, along with that of their parents and teachers on the P.T.A. panels.

Through such mediums as these we became better acquainted not only with international affairs, but with civic affairs, and intra and inter-school affairs.

The members of the Mustang Band were often present at such gatherings to display a note of the finer arts, and the combination of discussion and music led to a higher understanding of the world today.

In a Junior Town Meeting broadcast (upper left) were Mr. Jack Williams of KOY, Wallie Perry, Sherry Turner, Julianne Jennings, and Don Creamer. Broadcasting for North High on the Phoenix High Schools Program (lower right) were Flossie Jones, Jim Stevenson, Dick Snell, and Christine Lewis.

Lighter Moments – Assemblies

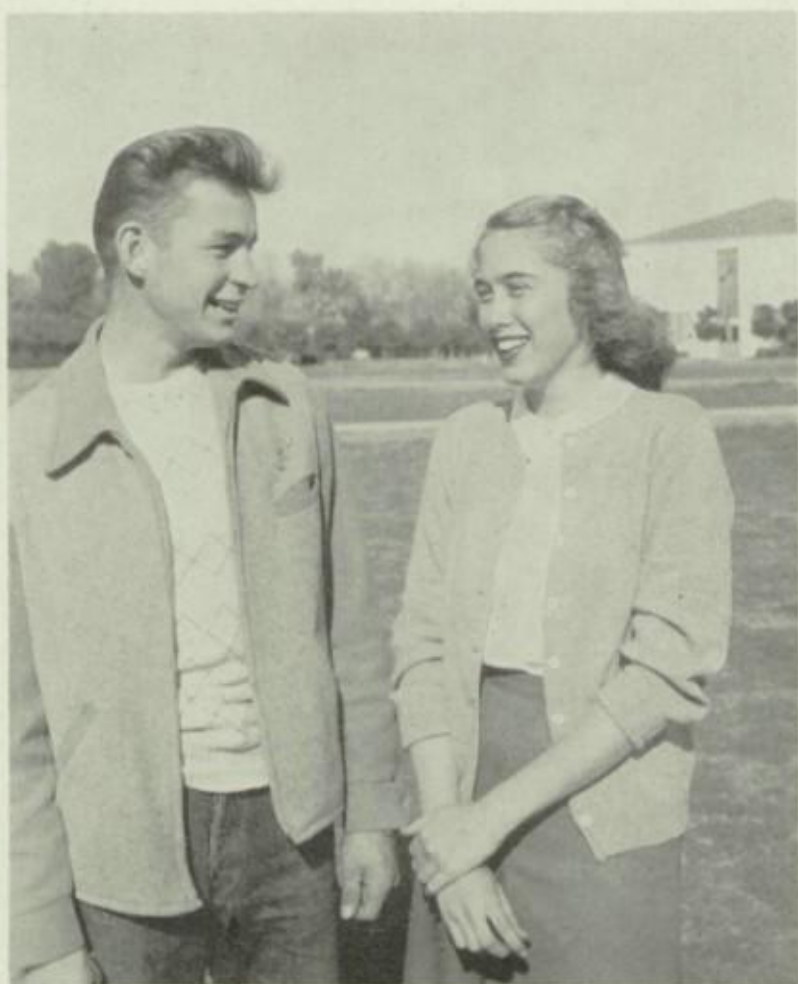

Bigger and better assemblies was a key phrase this year, and our assemblies were bigger and better. We had a magician, a trained dog, talent assemblies, awards assemblies, and even an opera in which some of the students acted as extras.

The afternoon shows were inaugurated by several members of the faculty. The students of North High were always eager to give of their time and talent to make our assemblies go over, and they were successful and enjoyable.

Rounding Up the News

The two mainstays of any school paper are the editor and business manager. So it was with Donald Janson and Betty Udell and the Mustang Roundup.

And it is the staff who works doggedly each week to check the work of the roving reporters, rewrite stories, and go to the printers in order to check the final proof, but their reward is satisfying when the final draft appears.

The Roving Reporters

What would Thursdays be without the Mustang Roundup? News, gossip, sport; all recorded for posterity in the pages of our school paper so ably assembled and turned out by the Roundup Staff.

Familiar is the sight and sound of sophomore reporters crying for news, of the editor crying for the reporters, and the long lines of students waiting for their papers at the ticket windows. But without North High's bi-monthly edition, campus life might become quite dull.

Working Toward the Day

Now that we have presented our prize package, the 1947 Hoofbeats, the long suffering annual staff, under the direction of Pat Small, editor, can forget the stacks of copy that had to be written and the pictures to be taken.

Other staff slaves were Dottie Lou Harrington and Jean Ludwig, associate editors; assistants, Royce Blair, Louie Bohn, Dale Hogue, and Wende Chrisman; typist, Faye Stone; business manager, Mickey McGuire; photographers, Don Hoelzen and Howard Klink; and artists, Madeline Haase, Brice Schuller, and Carol Phillips.

Early in the fall the annual theme and cover material and design were chosen. Then came the classification of the Junior and Senior panel pictures, followed by pages of copy and picture identifications to write. As the end of the year neared we were working feverishly and begging the printers to hurry, but now with a sigh of relief and pleasure we proudly present you the 1947 Hoofbeats.

Making Our Music

The Music Department is an institution in itself. With Mr. Lynn Fitzgerald as its director, the department has won wide acclaim throughout the city. For several years the Military Band has been the official rodeo band and has played for the Pioneers Reunion.

For the first time North High has an organized mixed chorus made up of students interested in the finer points of music.

The Little Symphony

The orchestra made its formal appearance at the Spring Concert, and it also provided the music at the Junior-Senior play, "Double Doors," and at the oratorical contest.

The orchestra, consisting of 28 members, affords an excellent opportunity for musical students to gain experience in playing orchestral scores.

Soloists from this group were featured in the Spring Concert, various P.T.A. programs, and school assemblies.

A Hundred and One Voices

The 101 voice Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Lynn Fitzgerald, has presented many fine programs this year: the inspirational Christmas assembly, the Spring Concert, the P.T.A. assembly, and other performances. The piano accompanist was Jeanine Snow.

Also part of the Glee Club are the glamorous Four Notes—Nancy Beaman, Jackie Davis, Annette Sheldon, and Pat Small—who appeared in the swing band assembly, at Phoenix Union, on the radio with the Teen Age Tactics, and before the Lions Club.

Assisting Mary Hodges and Dee Nesmith (upper right) with their makeup are Lois Driggs and Lois Hill. The makeup crew also included Ginger Blaine and Sue Van Zandt (lower left), who are shown applying makeup to Jerry Lewkowitz and Howard Klink. Leads were also played in the drama by Lois Hill, Joan Moore, Jim Lambert, and Kibby Barwick (lower right).

Mystery, Intrigue—"Double Door"

The Dramatics Department of North High outdid itself in every presentation. The first dramatic effort of the year was "Double Door," which was presented by the members of the Junior-Senior Classes.

The cast carried a great load in learning lines and stage procedure, but the make-up crew, stage crew, prompters, and directors carried much of the load also.

Under the direction of Miss Lucille Hicks, dramatic abilities of the students of North High have been ably developed.

"DEAR RUTH." Left to right: Don McClain, as Harold Klobbermyer; Norma Lee Bedillion, as Martha Seawright; Lois Driggs, as Miriam Wilkins; Elinor Caughlin, as Mrs. Edith Wilkins; Ralph Swift, as Judge Harry Wilkins; Dottie

Lou Harrington as Dora; Tom Isabel, as Albert Kummer; Portia Call, as Ruth Wilkins; and Otis Sullivan, as Lt. Bill Seawright.

"DEAR RUTH." In the dramatic comedy "Dear Ruth," Ralph Swift and Elinor Caughlin as Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins and Lois Driggs as Miriam were the hilarious trio of Friday night's cast. North High students and their parents were always kept well-informed by the publicity conscious thespians. At right: How those bulletin boards were decorated.

A Triumph—"Dear Ruth"

When the combined dramatic talent of the whole of North High is brought together, what can result but hilarious comedy productions such as "Dear Ruth"?

For weeks posters and radio announcements told us of this play's coming. When it was presented to the public, it was so well received that two additional performances were given.

All proceeds were donated by the cast to the Infantile Paralysis Fund for Arizona.

INSPECTION. Cadet Colonel Emory Sekaquaptewa inspects his officers.

In a Military Manner

Many changes occurred this year in our Military Department. Lt. Colonel Shoemaker came to direct the activities of the Phoenix Union High Schools' R.O.T.C., and Captain William Toy later came to assist him in this direction of military studies.

And as the year progressed, companies began to improve, green rookies finally learned to march, and our Military Department came to take great pride in the advancement it had made under the able guidance of its staff and student officers.

Sabers and Rifles

Every member of the R.O.T.C. is desirous of being chosen as a member of the R.O.T.C. Club, made up of those boys who have obtained the rank of sergeant or higher.

This year's rifle team has been active and successful, although it has received little publicity. Coming up against the stiff competition of teams from local and out-of-state schools, the North High team consistently ranked near the top.

Soldiers and Their Ladies

Though smaller this year, the Girls' Military Department was as active as always, preparing impressive drills in straight-lined ranks. To add to soldier smartness, new khaki uniforms were given the girls. The battalion was led this year by Colonel Elaine Bueford.

One of the dances, long to be remembered, was the Military Ball. The cadets in their striking uniforms and their dates, very lovely in the sheerest of formals, danced in the dim-lit hall to the melodious strains of Ray Moran's orchestra.

For Every Girl

The Girls' League of North High arranged for many of the extra-curricular activities which add to the enjoyment of student life.

The Blue and Silver Ball, and the Every Girl's Dinner are just two of their presentations. Gaiety and beauty always surround both of these events. Their activities include not only the girls of the student body, but the boys as well, as can well be seen in the picture above.

Dances—Sweet Music and Jive

North High basketball games would not be complete without the dances which follow. For a small sum and an identification card students could have three hours of soft music, jumping and jiving, or just contentedly sitting and watching the couples or listening to the orchestras which often stopped the show with their specialty numbers.

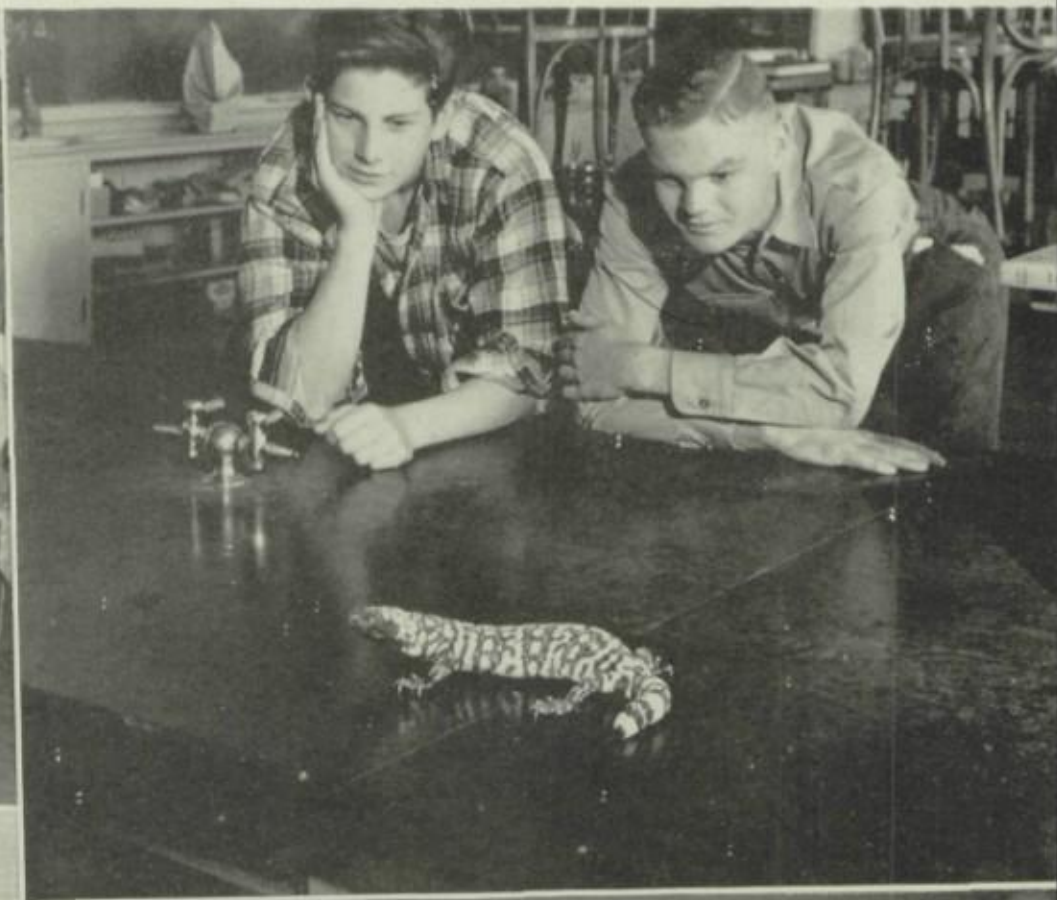

Every school in the valley participated in these dances—Mesa, Phoenix Union, Glendale, St. Mary's, and North High. Dances such as these always put a perfect finish to an enjoyable evening.

— And Special Occasions

New Year's, always a time of late hours, blowing horns, and throwing confetti, brought something entirely new this year: Confetti Capers, which was sponsored by the Y-Teens. There was confetti and horns and late hours, and from the looks on people's faces in the pictures (above left) much fun was had.

But of course the girls are at it again, and the Co-ed Dance is in full swing. Girls dressed as babies, rabbits, dolls, and little kids—all looking very comical, but all having a glorious time dancing and playing kid games.

With Scientific Eye

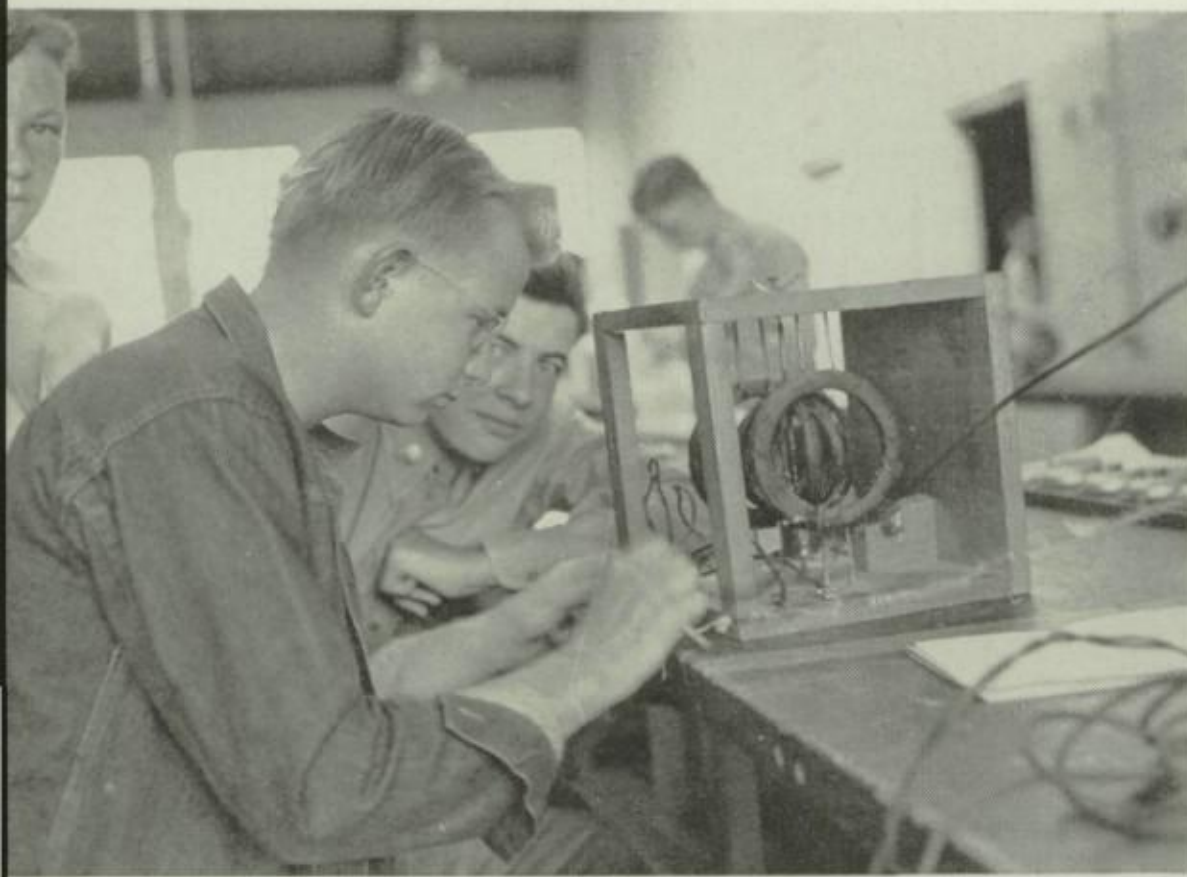

We often think of class work only in terms of difficulty and boredom, but it has its lighter moments, too. Experiments in chemistry are always rather exciting; perhaps one could blow up his partner or perhaps in Biology some daring young man could frighten some unsuspecting girl with a Gila monster or a writhing snake.

Insect and bird study break the monotony of book learning when one has specimens as shown above for study and observation.

Worthy of Exhibit

The Agriculture, Commercial, and Art Departments play an important part in our modern vocational training. This year North High artists won twenty first prize gold keys in the state-wide Annual Scholastic Art Awards contest. Agriculture students in addition to raising turnips and radishes, as a practical part of their course, made a model farm for exhibit at the State Fair. All departments prepared exhibits (lower right).

It Takes Skillful Hands

Craftsmanship is the key word in the mechanical field and those who take radio shop, electric shop, print shop, or wood shop must be able to use their hands in a skillful way.

The knowledge of how to connect small and intricate wires in radio mechanics and the ability to construct furniture and print bulletins and posters will help those who may wish to continue in these fields in later life.

With Homes in Mind

In order that the girls of today may become more efficient wives and mothers in the future, classes in homemaking, sewing, child guidance, and cooking are offered to all of those who are interested in taking them.

A renewal of the annual Girls' League fashion show presented to the public the projects of the sewing classes; and the children of the immediate neighborhood were offered the opportunity of coming to the nursery school. Here both the boys and girls learned to care for them, thus adding to their knowledge of child care, which will make for better community life in the future.

Party Time

Christmas was not forgotten this year. Gene Peterson, disguised as Santa Claus, came parading through the halls, ringing bells, and distributing gifts to teachers and students. Homerooms had parties, and Christmas trees were decorated. The true Christmas spirit was felt in the giving of toys, food, and boxes to those who might not otherwise be able to have a Christmas. All of us benefitted from the joy of the season.

Other parties, such as the Roundup's Valentine party (picture, lower right), brightened the year.

Eating—Any Place, Any Time

North Phoenix students must eat, and they do, as it can be seen in the above portrayals of some of our more prominent students. Is Ronald Prator eating the fish or is the fish eating him? And did the Chowder and Marching Society (lower right) ever get home? There are important questions, but at least it is evident that the ice cream, hot dogs, soda pop, and fish must have satisfied their appetites.

Sports

As Thousands Cheer

Football, basketball, or baseball are all equally important at North High. The players enter into the games with high spirits and a sense of fair play and they are not alone in this. — The spectators, cheering and tense, never for a moment forget the thrill of seeing their team in action.

VARSITY FOOTBALL—Front row: Corpstein (manager), Ransom, Summers, Johnson, Elias, Showers, Morris, Allen, Wilmoth, R. Zehr, Condos, Wells, Wachtler, F. Zehr (manager). On September 1, Coaches Rolly Caldwell, Claire Van Hoorebeke, and Don Pace were met by an eager bunch of boys all ready to start training for the 1946 football campaign.

This year's squad was a bit green and inexperienced and it took plenty of hard work to get them in shape for their first contest with the Casa Grande Cougars. The Mustangs were upset, 12 to 7, on unlucky Friday the 13th, by the determined Casa Grande eleven.

NIGHT FOOTBALL. Under the lights of the local stadiums, there was excitement and thrill last fall. Scenes at right are from night games. The upper picture shows Dave Askins smashing for a gain in the Bowie game.

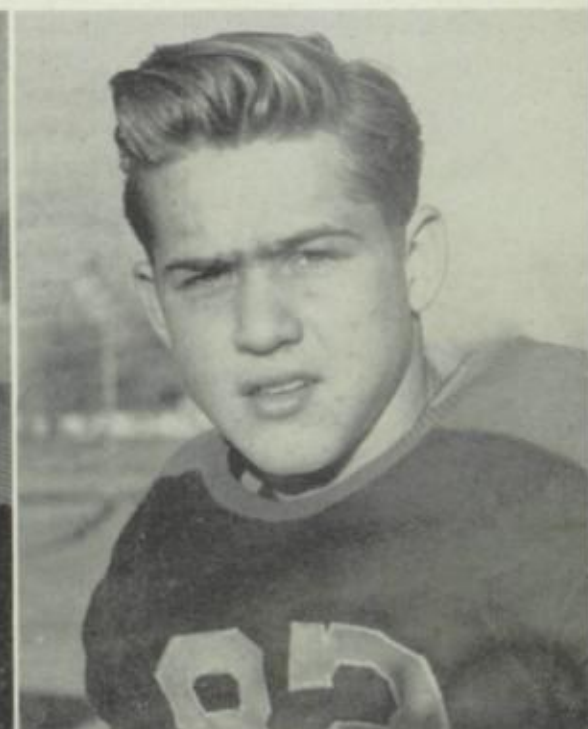

They Never Let Up

After a half-time draw, the Mustangs dropped a hotly contested City League game to a light but fast St. Mary's eleven, 7-0.

The Mesa contest saw a much improved North High eleven draw first blood in this game, but the White-led crew went ahead to win, 34-12.

The Glendale game was about the best game of the season for the Mustangs. The game went scoreless for three quarters, but the Cards pulled the contest out of the fire in the last minute of play. A pass from Aja to Hildrith supplied the winning tally.

TIME OUT. Weary Mustangs stop for a moment's breather in the Thanksgiving Day game with Phoenix Union in the Union High Stadium.

Competition Was Stiff

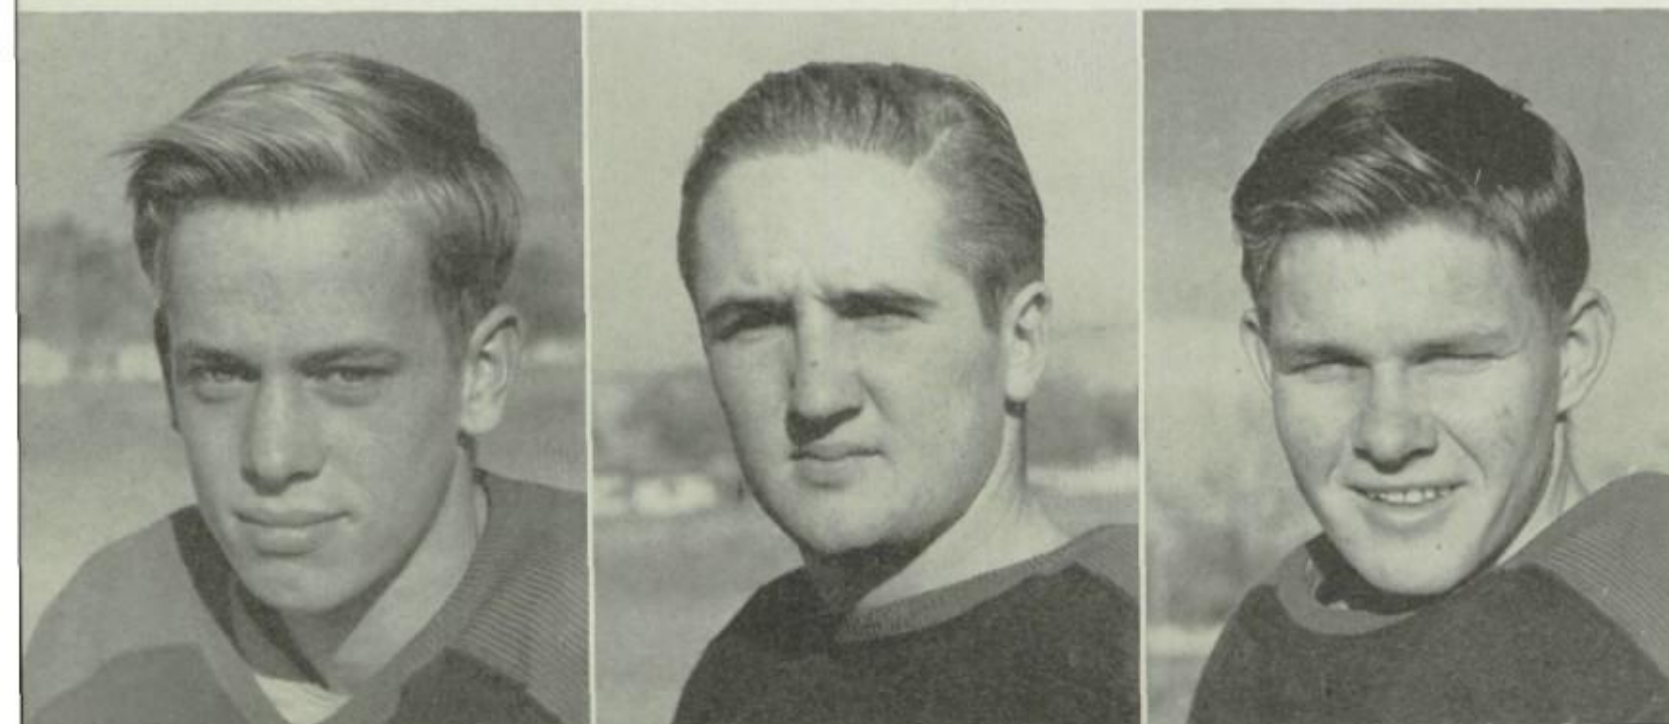

The Wild Horses entered the Tucson game with hopes of staging an upset but came home smarting from a 27-6 defeat. They were glad even to score against the potent Badgers.

"Battering" Dell Taylor turned the trick by returning a Tucson punt for a 40-yard run to the pay strip. Tucson's All-State fullback, Lee Carey, was the big gun for the Old Pueblo crew by scoring three touchdowns on three long runs.

The Mustangs lost the next two contests to Texas elevens, being beaten by Bowie High of El Paso on local sod, 18-6, and then being downed by the El Paso Tigers, 27-6, in the fracas termed the "hard luck" game of the year.

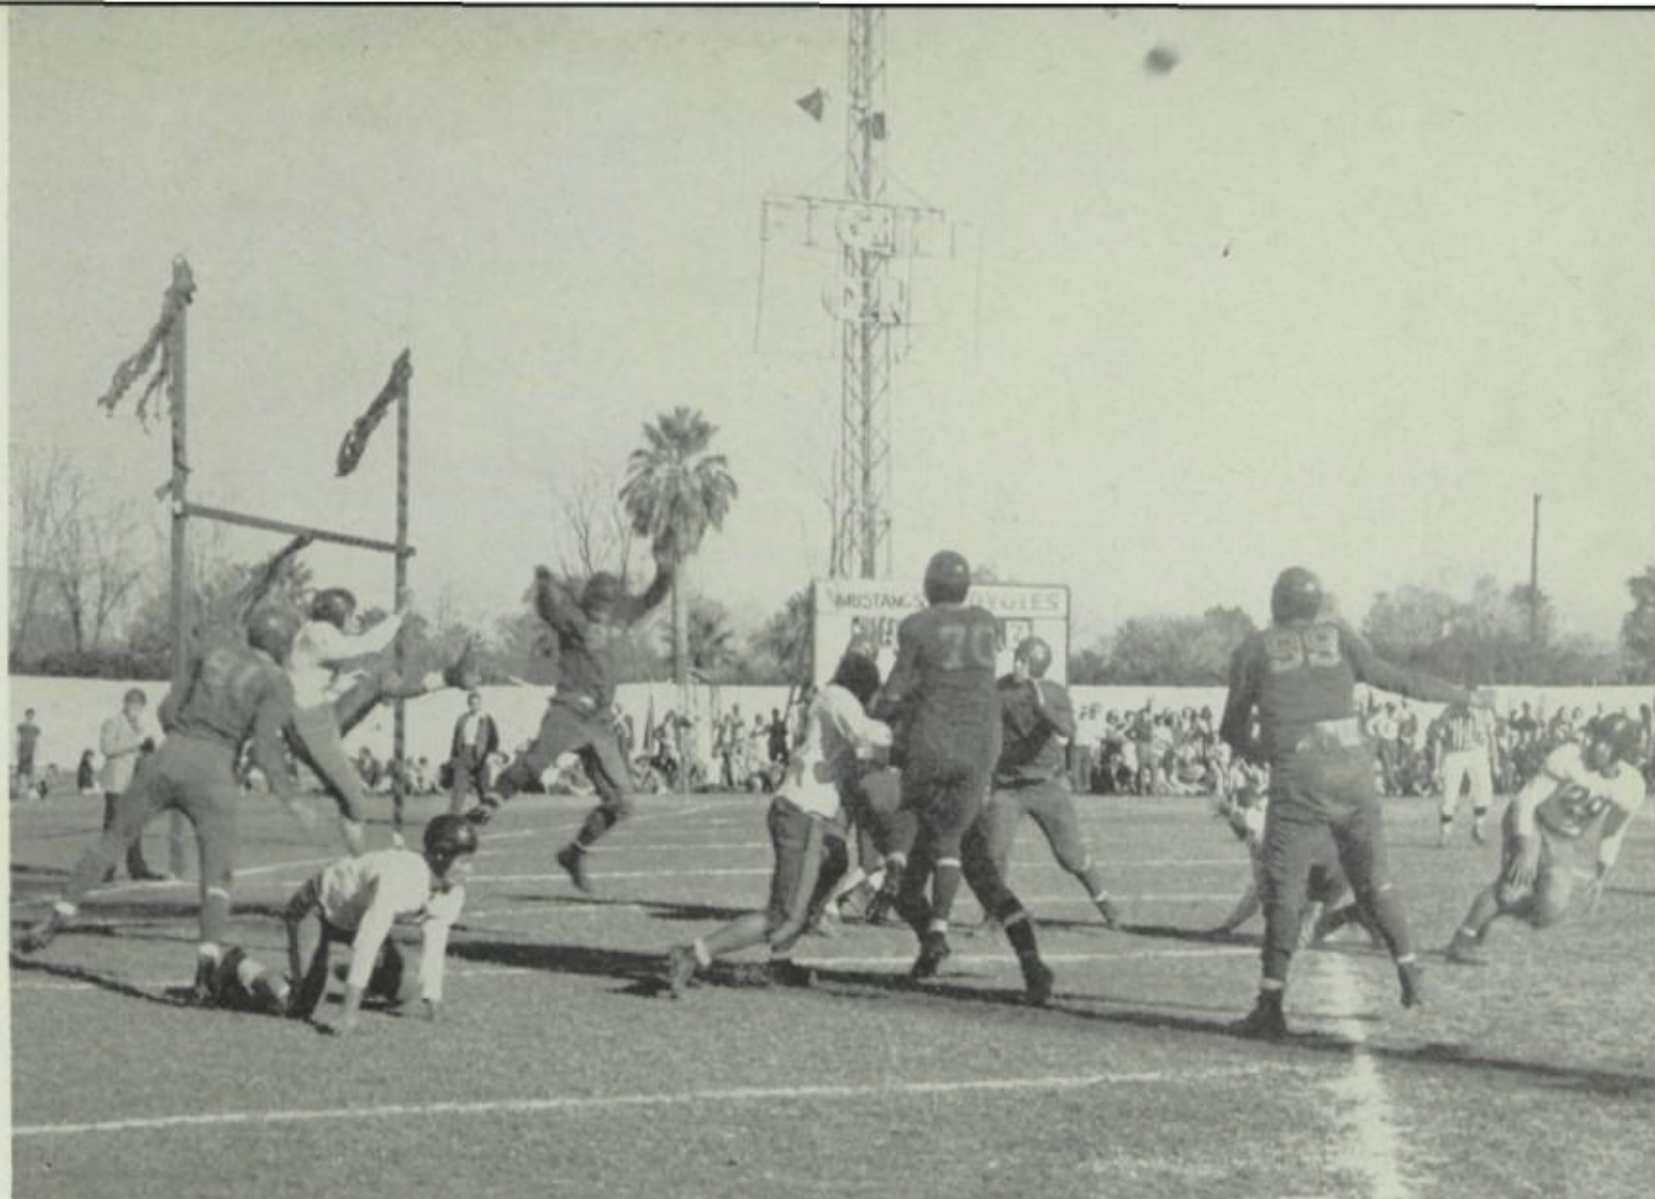

Success crowned the Scarlet and Blue in the next game when down went the Phoenix Tech Hornets, 44 to 6, under the hoofs of the revived Mustangs.

The Varsity followed this by losing to Albuquerque in a close game, 7-6.

KICK. Behind their own goal line, the Coyotes kick to safety.

First Time In History

For the first time in North Phoenix High's football history, the Mustangs lost a Thanksgiving game to "Don Coyote" of Phoenix Union.

The contest was a bang-up affair from the start. The Coyotes started fast and when smoke cleared from the first half the Downtown crew was sporting a 7-0 lead. By the end of the clash, Phoenix Union added another score and went ahead to win, 14-0.

Sitting Down Together

With the aroma of steak and potatoes filling the room, the annual Phoenix Union-North Phoenix joint football banquet got underway at the Steak House, December 11.

Supt. E. W. Montgomery cited the two schools for the spirit in which they played football during the season.

Coach Rolly Caldwell and Coach Larry Rouble introduced their assistant coaches and members of the football squads.

Duane Miller played a piano solo to wind up the evening's festivities.

Turkey Day and the Trophy

This year for the first time in many seasons, the Mustangs of North Phoenix High held a football rally the evening before the Turkey Day clash with Phoenix Union High School. The picture above shows Mr. Henry Lowe holding the Kit Carson rifle, the trophy which goes to the winner of the game.

A kickoff is always exciting. But the most exciting of all is the one that opens the annual Big Game. Below is the scene in Phoenix Union Stadium.

Football is a lot of fun, but it takes a lot of hard work to make a good team. This year's Mustang Junior Varsity, the Colts, had the best season of all second teams in North High's football history.

Coached by Don Pace, the Colts defeated Glendale three times; the Phoenix Indians once; St. Mary's once; and a Veteran team from Desert Mission once. They ended the season with six wins and six losses.

We Couldn't Do Without Them

Wanda Miller, Norma Love, Gwen Davis, Faye Kelly, and Paul Mangino. You saw them at the football, basketball, and baseball games, always cheering, never failing to give their full support to the Mustangs.

When school spirit went into a slump after football season, this grand group of students was still out front cheering our teams on to victory.

They deserve recognition for their fine work during the school year of 1946-47.

Action On the Hardwood

The hard driving Wild Horses opened their 1946-47 season by dumping the Tempe Buffaloes 41 to 27, then smashing the Knights of St. Mary's, 35 to 28, in a well played City League contest.

The Horses were edged by Tucson 39-31 at the Old Pueblo the next night.

The hard fighting Coyotes handed the Wild Horses their second defeat of the season in a well played contest, 39-33. The following night Coach Rolly Caldwell cleared the bench of subs for the first time in the season and walloped Phoenix Tech, 65-23. Elmer Bradley was high man for the Hosses with 15 points.

Showing that they still had plenty of fight left, the North High Squad blasted Mesa, 34-33, in what was termed as the most exciting cage game of the year. Larry Fuller led the Mustang scoring with 11 points.

VARSITY BASKETBALL. Front row: Dunlap, Thompson, Finch, Currie, Lane, Shaw, Fuller, Bartee
Second row: Coach Caldwell, McDowell, Clements, Wagstaff, Bradley, Peterson, Hull, Crosby.

The Schedule Was Relentless

The next night, January 11, the substitutes again were in the spotlight when they belted Wickenburg, 46-38.

A determined band of Mustangs came from behind in the second half to down the unbeaten Tucson Badger five, 38-36, January 17 at the Phoenix Union Gym.

A little unsettled by their victory over Tucson, the Caldwell squad dropped the next three games to Tempe, 26-19; P.U.H.S., 31-16; and the Peoria Panthers, 31-31.

Apparently again in stride, the Mustangs came out of their midseason slump to win from Glendale, 41-35, and slip past Wickenburg 42-41.

North High's hoopsters felt the need of the services of Larry Fuller and Roy Thompson, out because of illness, when they twice went down to defeat, first by Mesa, 39-28, and then by Peoria 43-36.

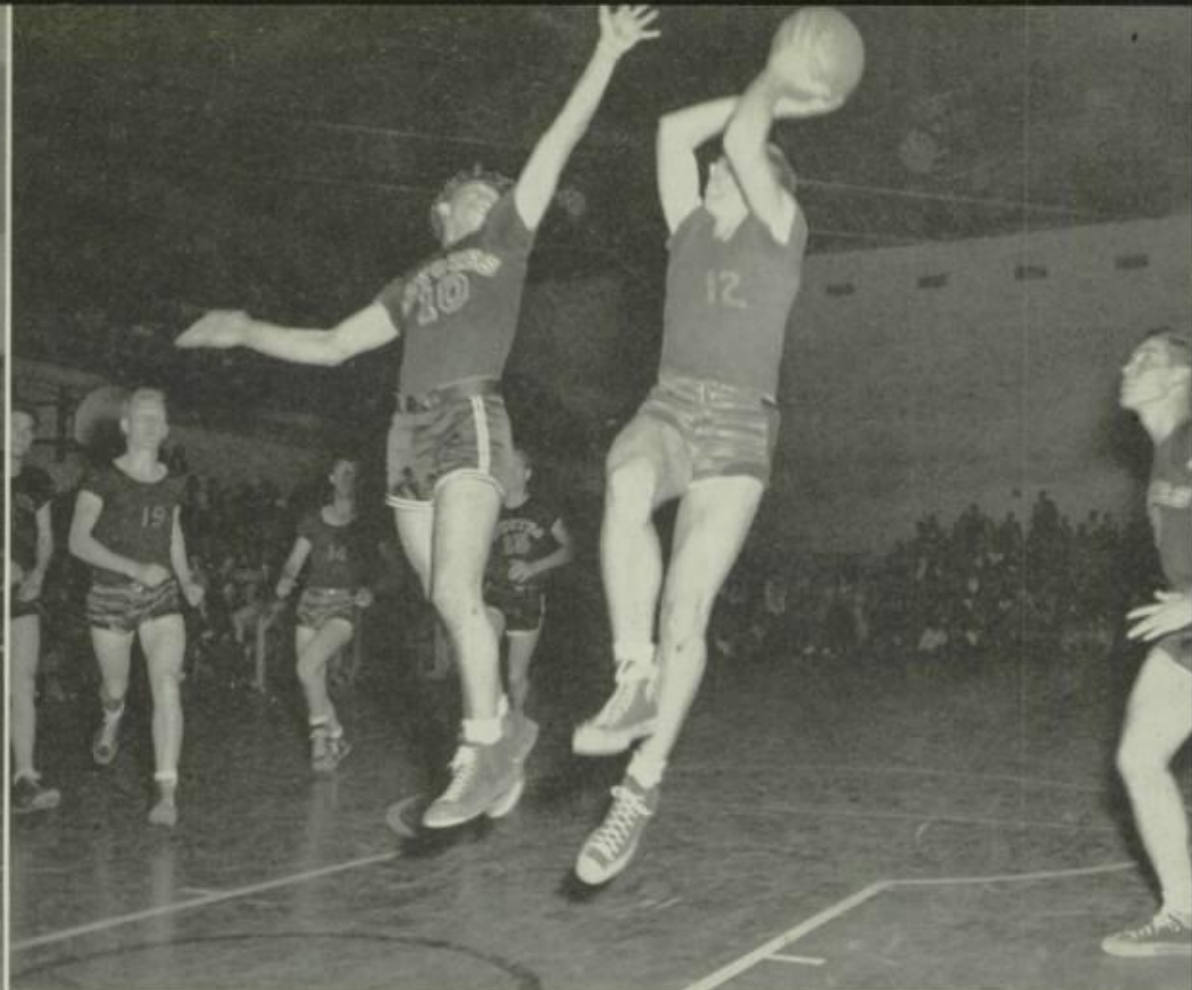

The North High squad dropped their only game in the District Tournament to Ajo, 36-30. They drew a first round bye—automatically putting them in the second round.

In a double barreled contest the Horses downed Yuma two nights in a row, February 21 and 22, 42-32 and 38-21.

North High was not chosen as the sixteenth team so did not participate in the State Tournament, which was won by Florence.

The Wild Horses ended their season by rambling over St. Mary's 48-40, in a rough tilt, February 28.

The high point men for the season were Larry Fuller, 121 points; Bob Lane, 112; and Leroy Shaw, 95. Oren "Buzzy" McDowell played more contest minutes than any other player this year.

COMMANDO BASKETBALL. Something new was tried out for half-time entertainment this year. Commando basketball is fun—to watch!

The Colts Were Winners

Coach Don Pace's North Phoenix Colts played an outstanding season, winning 14 games and losing 5.

John Winkler took top honors in scoring with 106 points. Following his lead was Leland Barlow with 128; Don Hargraves, 65; and Gordon Reader, 60.

The Junior Varsity lost games to Phoenix Union twice, Mesa once, Tucson once, and the Phoenix Indian School varsity once.

Most of the players on this year's second team will make the Varsity of 1947-48.

Spring Brings Baseball

America's favorite sport—baseball. North Phoenix horsehide fans were treated to some very good displays of our national pastime this season.

The Wild Horses fielded their strongest nine since 1942. Coach Van Hoorebeke's crew had won 14 games and lost 4 when this year's annual went to press.

The Mustangs Were Hard Hitters

Hard hitting was the nucleus from which this year's squad was built. The batting averages for the ten top players are as follows: Don Nicholas, .530; Bill Grasham, .387; Kelsey Boltz, .369; Jack Maddy, .342; Dale Hogue, .333; John Scott, .333; Pete Fisher, .326; Earl Boltz, .314; Roy Harris, .306; C. L. Johnson, .306.

The Mustangs opened the season by plowing under Superior 14-1 and 19-2, and then slapping down Scottsdale, 12-0. The Horse Nine went ahead to become the team to beat in class A, State, and City Championship play.

This year's crew was the first Hoss Nine to defeat the Tucson Badgers. They did it handily, 5-3, at Tucson, April 4.

Track and Field

Track is different from other sports because each person works by himself—not as a member of a team, but for the team. But a spirit of co-operation is imperative, and this North High had this year.

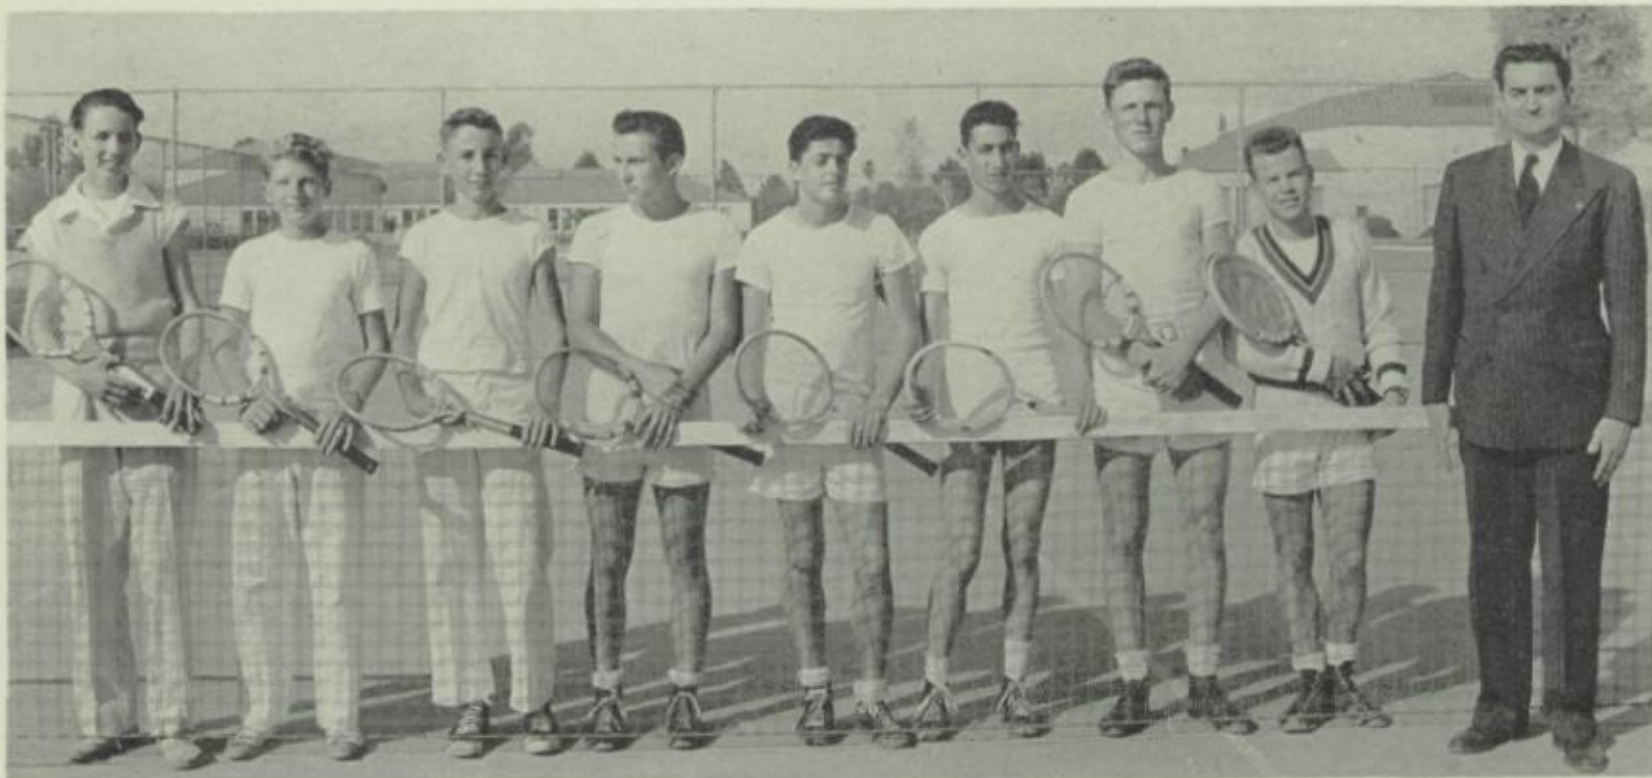

Starting the 1947 season with a loss to a strong Phoenix Union team, the Mustang track men steadily improved. North High was strongest this year in the field events. Parker Gregg led his fellows with his specialty, the discuss throw, in which event he was undefeated. Buzz McDowell made a good showing in high jumping, pole vaulting, and broad jumping.

Gordon Sims was the outstanding distance runner, running both the 880 and the mile. The fast man on the team was Doug Watkins, who ran the 100, 220, and relay dashes. Hurdlers were Don Summers, Max Dunlap, and Donald Knaack. Running the 440 dash was Merle Wackerbarth.

Other members of the team were Boyd Clements, shot put; Mitsukie Mitsuda, high jump; Gay Currie, mile; Ray Zehr, dashes; Harry Sogan, 880 run; Dan Griswold, discuss; and Ronald Prator, broad jump. Coaching and responsibility for the team's improvement came from Mr. Don Pace.

Volley and Serve

The Boys' Tennis Team of North High completed a very successful season, winning thirteen out of the seventeen matches scheduled. The only teams that defeated the Mustang team were Tucson, which won two games, and Mesa and Yuma, with a win each.

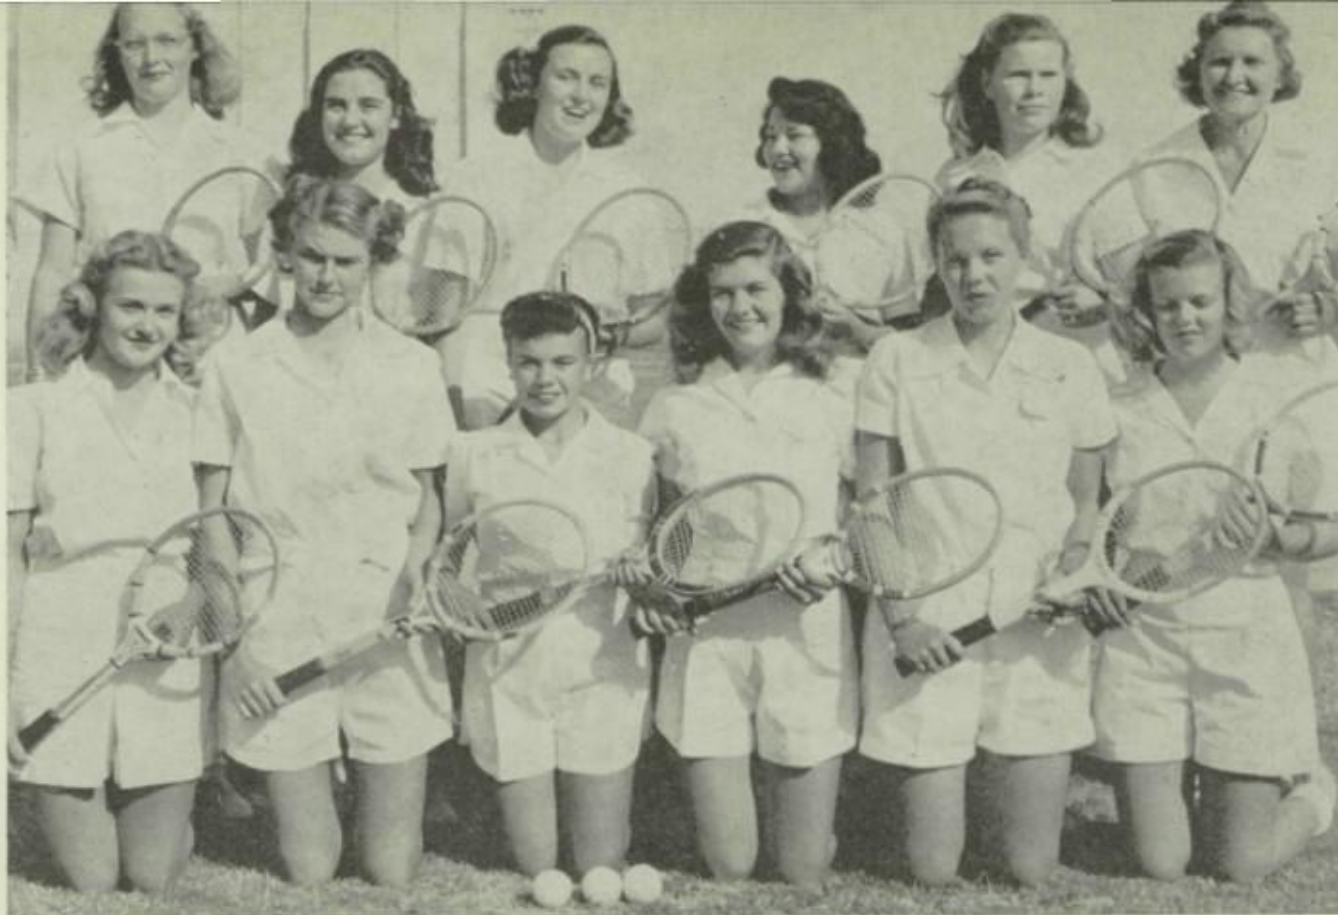

Members of the team were Bobby Charles, number one man for three years; Duane Miller, number two man; Joe Weaver, three; Murray Shevick, four; Delton Schonthaler, five; and John Carollo, six.

Along with the seventeen matches played, team members entered four tournaments. In two of the tournaments, the Southwestern and the State Closed, Bobby Charles, stellar tennis player of North High, won championships.

Charles has sparked the fighting Mustangs tennis team for three years, and he has gathered many laurels for his superb playing. Charles is a hard working player, taking great pains in perfecting his game, besides being an all-around athlete. He is one of the very few tennis players who may get to the top in his field. Through hard work and real interest he can and probably will become one of the prominent tennis players in this section of the country, says his coach, Mr. C. O. Stephens.

CHAMPION. Bobby Charles and the cup he won for taking the Southwestern Junior Men's Singles Championship.

Arrows and Rackets

Under the direction of Miss Catherine A. Wilkinson, the Girls' Tennis Team played a comparatively successful season with high schools from all parts of Arizona this year. Members of the squad were Marcia Brown, Lois Thurman, Marilyn Burson (Captain), Gyrene Grammar, Jacqueline Ginn, Mary Ann Carlisle, Alice Phillips (Manager), Carolyn Randolph, Kathryn Dohner, Nancy Deatherage, Devora Costanten, and Rosie Poleeson.

A heavy schedule was followed during the season, with matches played on both our courts and at other schools and participation in various state tournaments.

Making a new start this year, archery has grown to be an important school activity, with real enthusiasm on the part of both the students and their capable instructor, Miss Regna E. Breneman.

The Archery Club was formed to meet for practice twice a week on the archery range. This year its members participated in the Second Annual Invitational Archery Tournament at Tempe College, with Susan Thompson winning major honors.

Steering G.A.A. through a strenuous winter, the Cabinet, with Mrs. Bettse M. Phelps sponsoring, made this season one worth remembering.

Consistent planning went into such activities as the Volleyball picnic, the initiation, the Valley Softball Sportsday, and the spring trip to Prescott.

The Cabinet, headed by G.A.A.'s President, Marlene Gallman, also included Joan Sill, Vice-president; Velma Jeanne Barnett, Secretary; Betty Jean Cloud, Treasurer; Claryce Beck, Senior Representative; Joyce Nelson, Junior Representative; Marcella Murphy, Sophomore Representative; Mary Jo Wimberly, Freshman Representative; and Gyrene Grammar, Publicity Chairman.

All-Stars pictured below are the top players chosen from each sport and should receive special recognition.

Sportswomen

The Girls' Athletic Association, in close co-ordination with the Girls' Physical Education Department, this year has successfully carried out the most active program of its history.

Tennis, archery, badminton, volleyball, basketball, speedball, softball, and dancing have been among its members' activities.

North High seems to rank second in competition with other Valley schools as shown by the results of the three Valley Sportsdays which were held this year.

that happens lets still be good friends. There is no reason for it to be different.

I'll have to finish this in pencil as pen and ink just doesn't work on this paper. Please excuse the mess. As I was saying -

We've made plans and I sincerely hope they all come true. We & you love someone as much as I love you nothing else counts much. I don't know just how long we will be separated but you'll always be with me in my heart no matter where I go. I love having you home but it takes a separation to realize just how much a person means to you. We've been apart four weeks this summer and in those four weeks I did a lot of thinking. Won't if we really love each other no one can ever change it. They may not let us see each other or talk to each other but that is nothing to cause worry. I believe the old saying "All is well that ends well." and let's hope and pray it does end well. Perhaps we don't know now which is the best way but time will tell.

I guess I've preached a little too long but I do mean every word of it.

Remember how I love you more than anyone, even Jack or Billie! Ha! Ha! Seriously though, I love you more than anything to me and I love you dearly. This will probably be the last book of yours I'll be writing in but soon I'll have a book to write in and it will start Dec. 23, March 1, and May 30.

All my love, honey - your Lynn.

Honey -

Well this marks the end of another year. A perfectly wonderful year. One I will never forget. It seems like one big picnic after another. And one thing made it that way. You! Honestly, honey, you're my whole life. Don't ever forget that.

We've had the best times together. Remember the Junior-Senior Prom and our Latin class picnic. And the plays at both N. F. H. S. and F. U. H. S. Those were really something. Remember the time Gloria had a blind date with Jack. Boy, was that something to put in the records. Just ask Gloria!

Now it's going to be hard being away from home and the friends here. But time passes quickly and you'll soon find yourself on the road, not of high school, not of college, but of your life work. We think we have it rough now but when you have to carry the load by yourself it's an awful lot harder. But if you keep God ever in sight and your goal as a better Christian things great will seem small and things unconquerable will seem as stepping stones to the end you are trying to attain. Keep Christ first. You have a lot of time to decide what to choose as your life work but whatever it may be, do it with honesty, loyalty, dependability, accuracy, and a will to keep trying no matter how rough the long road may be.

Time changes things and perhaps when you come home from college we will find each other quite a bit different from what we expected and things won't be quite as nice as we would have liked. If
